

460. The Report of Death in the Vanderbilt records states that Ms. Shoemaker's Admitting Diagnosis was perinephric abscess.

461. The Report of Death in the Vanderbilt records states that Ms. Shoemaker's death was caused by a diagnostic or therapeutic procedure.

462. The procedure that caused Ms. Shoemaker's death was Dr. Edwards' attempt to place a central line in the R IJ on the morning of April 13, 2017.

463. Ms. Shoemaker had at least an average life expectancy on April 13, 2017 had her R CCA not been cannulated.

464. Ms. Shoemaker did not have diabetes on April 13, 2017.

465. Ms. Shoemaker did not have heart disease on April 13, 2017.

466. Ms. Shoemaker did not have lung disease on April 13, 2017.

467. Ms. Shoemaker did not have cardiovascular disease on April 13, 2017.

468. Ms. Shoemaker did not have liver disease on April 13, 2017.

469. Ms. Shoemaker did not have any brain abnormalities on April 13, 2017 prior to her R CCA being cannulated.

470. Ms. Shoemaker did not have neurological disease on April 13, 2017 prior to her R CCA being cannulated.

HEALTH CARE LIABILITY CLAIMS

471. The Plaintiff incorporates the factual averments and allegations set forth above as if fully described herein.

472. The relationship of health care provider – patient existed between Ms. Shoemaker and Dr. Edwards on April 13, 2017.

473. Dr. Edwards owed Ms. Shoemaker a duty to provide appropriate care and treatment on April 13, 2017 at Vanderbilt.

474. Dr. Edwards failed to comply with the applicable recognized standard of acceptable professional practice ("standard of care") when she provided care and treatment to Ms. Shoemaker during the April 13, 2017 admission to Vanderbilt.

475. The ways in which Dr. Edwards failed to comply with the applicable standard of care includes, but is not limited to:

- a. Dr. Edwards negligently failed to properly perform the attempted placement of a central line in Ms. Shoemaker's R IJ on April 13, 2017.
- b. Dr. Edwards negligently failed to properly identify the relevant anatomy during the attempted placement of a central line in Ms. Shoemaker's R IJ on April 13, 2017.
- c. Dr. Edwards negligently failed to properly confirm the placement of the wire during the attempted placement of a central line in Ms. Shoemaker's R IJ on April 13, 2017.
- d. Dr. Edwards negligently failed to properly confirm the placement of the catheter during the attempted placement of a central line in Ms. Shoemaker's R IJ on April 13, 2017.
- e. Dr. Edwards negligently failed to timely recognize that she perforated the R CCA on April 13, 2017.

476. The relationship of health care provider-patient existed between Ms. Shoemaker and every provider involved with Ms. Shoemaker's care and treatment during her April 13, 2017 admission to Vanderbilt.

477. The health care providers at Vanderbilt who provided care and treatment to Ms. Shoemaker during her April 13, 2017 admission owed Ms. Shoemaker a duty to provide appropriate care and treatment on April 13, 2017 at Vanderbilt.

478. The health care providers who provided care and treatment to Ms. Shoemaker during her April 13, 2017 admission failed to comply with the applicable standard of care when they provided care and treatment to Ms. Shoemaker during the April 13, 2017 admission to Vanderbilt.

479. The ways in which the health care providers at Vanderbilt failed to comply with the applicable standard of care includes, but is not limited to:

- a. Negligently failing to properly perform the attempted placement of a central line in Ms. Shoemaker's R IJ on April 13, 2017.
- b. Negligently failing to properly identify the relevant anatomy during the attempted placement of a central line in Ms. Shoemaker's R IJ on April 13, 2017.
- c. Negligently failing to properly confirm the placement of the wire during the attempted placement of a central line in Ms. Shoemaker's R IJ on April 13, 2017.
- d. Negligently failing to properly confirm the placement of the catheter during the attempted placement of a central line in Ms. Shoemaker's R IJ on April 13, 2017.
- e. Negligently failing to timely recognize that Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA was penetrated on April 13, 2017.
- f. Negligently allowing Dr. Edwards to perform the attempted placement of the R IJ line on April 13, 2017 without proper education, training, experience, or supervision.

480. All of the above acts of negligence, including because of the severe risk to Ms. Shoemaker of suffering a penetration of her R CCA and that iatrogenic event not being timely recognized and treated to avoid that mistake from being fatal, also constitute reckless conduct.

CAUSATION AND DAMAGES

481. The Plaintiff incorporates the factual averments and allegations set forth above as if fully described herein.

482. As a direct and proximate result of the negligence of at least one of the Defendants, Ms. Shoemaker suffered a brain injury at Vanderbilt on April 13, 2017.

483. As a direct and proximate result of the negligence of at least one of the Defendants, Ms. Shoemaker suffered a fatal brain injury at Vanderbilt on April 13, 2017.

484. As a direct and proximate result of the negligent acts and omissions of the Defendants, Ms. Shoemaker suffered a brain injury at Vanderbilt on April 13, 2017.

485. As a direct and proximate result of the negligent acts and omissions of the Defendants, Ms. Shoemaker suffered a fatal brain injury at Vanderbilt on April 13, 2017.

486. As a direct and proximate result of the negligence of at least one of the Defendants, Ms. Shoemaker died on April 14, 2017.

487. As a direct and proximate result of the negligent acts and omissions of the Defendants, Ms. Shoemaker died on April 14, 2017.

488. The injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA that occurred on the morning of April 13, 2017 at Vanderbilt was not timely recognized.

489. As a direct and proximate result of the negligent acts and omissions of at least one of the Defendants, the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA that occurred on the morning of April 13, 2017 was not timely recognized.

490. As a direct and proximate result of the negligent acts and omissions of the Defendants, the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA that occurred on the morning of April 13, 2017 was not timely recognized.

491. As a direct and proximate result of the negligent acts and omissions of at least one of the Defendants, the cannulation of Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA that occurred on the morning of April 13, 2017 was not timely recognized.

492. As a direct and proximate result of the negligent acts and omissions of the Defendants, the cannulation of Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA that occurred on the morning of April 13, 2017 was not timely recognized.

493. The injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 at Vanderbilt caused her to suffer a fatal brain injury.

494. The cannulation of Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 at Vanderbilt caused her to suffer a fatal brain injury.

495. The length of time that the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 went undetected and untreated caused her to suffer a fatal brain injury.

496. The length of time that the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 went undetected and untreated was a cause of her death.

497. The length of time that the cannulation of Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 went undetected and untreated caused her to suffer a fatal brain injury.

498. The length of time that the cannulation of Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 went undetected and untreated was a cause of her death.

499. The injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 was the only act that started the chain of events that caused her death.

500. The length of time that the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 went unrecognized and untreated caused her to suffer a fatal brain injury.

501. The length of time that the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 went unrecognized and untreated was a cause of her death.

502. The length of time that the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 went unrecognized and untreated was a substantial factor in the causing her death.

503. If Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA had not been penetrated on April 13, 2017, Ms. Shoemaker would not have died on April 14, 2017.

504. The penetration of Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 was a substantial factor in starting the chain of events that caused her death.

505. On April 13, 2017, it was reasonably foreseeable that the type of injury that occurred to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA could cause a disruption of proper blood flow to the brain and cause a fatal brain injury, including if it was not timely recognized and timely treated.

506. On April 13, 2017, it was reasonably foreseeable that the type of injury that occurred to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA would cause a disruption of proper blood flow to the brain and cause a fatal brain injury, including if it was not timely recognized and timely treated.

507. If Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA had not been injured on April 13, 2017, Ms. Shoemaker would not have died on April 14, 2017.

508. If the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA caused at Vanderbilt on April 13, 2017 had been timely recognized and timely treated, Ms. Shoemaker would not have died on April 14, 2017.

509. The injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA on April 13, 2017 was a substantial factor in starting the chain of events that caused her death.

510. The failure to timely recognize that the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA occurred was a substantial factor in starting the chain of events that caused her death.

511. The failure to timely treat the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA was a substantial factor in starting the chain of events that caused her death.

512. On April 13, 2017, it was reasonably foreseeable that the type of injury that occurred to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA could cause a disruption of proper blood flow to the brain and cause a fatal brain injury, including if it was not timely recognized and timely treated.

513. On April 13, 2017, it was reasonably foreseeable that the type of injury that occurred to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA would cause a disruption of proper blood flow to the brain and cause a fatal brain injury, including if it was not timely recognized and timely treated.

514. This lawsuit seeks all compensatory damages available in a wrongful death action in Tennessee, including economic damages and non-economic damages. These requested damages include, but are not limited to, medical expenses, lost earnings, lost earning capacity, funeral expenses, burial expenses, physical pain and suffering emotional pain and suffering, loss of consortium (including the loss of consortium suffered by Ms. Shoemaker's adult son, Bretton, and by her two minor sons, David and Chris – both of whom Mr. Bretton has full custody of), and the pecuniary value of Ms. Shoemaker's life.

515. This lawsuit seeks punitive damages for the acts described herein involving a conscious disregard for the known risk of harm posed to Ms. Shoemaker, which constitutes reckless conduct.

516. The medical expenses charged by Vanderbilt for the care and treatment provide to Ms. Shoemaker during her April 13, 2017 admission in response to the injury to Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA were reasonable in amount.

517. The medical care provided by Vanderbilt to Ms. Shoemaker during her April 13, 2017 admission in response to the R CCA injury was necessary as a result of the R CCA injury that occurred.

COMPLIANCE WITH STATUTORY NOTICE AND GOOD FAITH REQUIREMENTS

518. The Plaintiff, through counsel, complied with the provisions of Tenn. Code Ann. §29-26-121 requiring individuals asserting a potential health care liability claim to give written notice of such potential claim to each health care provider that will be a named Defendant at least 60 days prior to filing a complaint ("Pre-Suit Notice" or "Notice").

519. On or by March 27, 2018, Notice was given to the Defendants in accordance with Tenn. Code Ann. §29-26-121.

520. The Affidavit of Brian Cummings and supporting documentation demonstrating compliance with regard to Notice are attached to this Complaint as Exhibit 1.

521. The Complaint was filed more than 60 days after March 27, 2018.

522. March 27, 2018 was less than one year from the date of Ms. Shoemaker's April 14, 2017 death.

523. The Complaint was filed more than 60 days after Defendants received Pre-Suit Notice.

524. The Defendants had the opportunity to review the facts of this matter between the time of their receipt of Pre-Suit Notice and the filing of this Complaint.

525. Neither the Defendants nor any agent acting on a Defendant's behalf, ever communicated to counsel for the Plaintiff any inability or problem with obtaining or reviewing the

○ pertinent medical records, which counsel for the Plaintiff provided directly or provided access to via an appropriate, HIPAA-compliant release for the Defendants to use to obtain records.⁴

526. In accordance with Tenn. Code Ann. §29-26-122, the Plaintiff's counsel has consulted with one or more experts who provided a signed written statement confirming that upon information and belief they are competent under Tenn. Code Ann. §29-26-115 to express opinions in this case and believe, based on the information available from medical records concerning the care and treatment of the Plaintiff's deceased mother, that there is a good faith basis to maintain this action consistent with the requirements of Tenn. Code Ann. §29-26-115 ("good faith requirement").

527. The Certificate of Good Faith demonstrating compliance with the good faith requirement is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit 2.

○ THE COMPLAINT WAS TIMELY FILED

528. This lawsuit arises from the professional negligence committed by the Defendants on April 13, 2017 that caused Ms. Shoemaker's April 14, 2017 death.

529. The Plaintiff provided proper Pre-Suit Notice of this lawsuit to the Defendants.

530. The Pre-Suit Notice described in this section was provided within the application period.

531. More than 60 days passed between the Defendants being sent Pre-Suit Notice and the filing of this lawsuit.

○ ⁴ Since the Defendants are Vanderbilt and a Vanderbilt physician, it should also be noted that the Defendants were already authorized to review Ms. Shoemaker's records from Vanderbilt per 45 C.F.R. §164.506 (allowing use for "health care operations") and 45 C.F.R. §164.501 (defining "health care operations" to include "conducting or arranging for medical review, legal services...").

532. More than 60 days passed between the Defendants receiving Pre-Suit Notice and the filing of this lawsuit.

533. Per Tennessee law, the Plaintiff was required to send Pre-Suit Notice to the Defendants within one year of Ms. Shoemaker's death.

534. Ms. Shoemaker died at Vanderbilt on April 14, 2017.

535. One year from Ms. Shoemaker's death was April 14, 2018.

536. Pre-Suit Notice was sent out to the Defendants by April 13, 2018.

537. The Defendants received Pre-Suit Notice by April 13, 2018.

538. As a result of sending Pre-Suit Notice to the Defendants by April 13, 2018, the Plaintiff received an additional 120 days from April 14, 2018 to file a corresponding lawsuit pursuant to Tennessee law.

539. August 12, 2018 is 120 days after April 14, 2018.

540. The parties entered into two Tolling Agreements regarding this matter.

541. The parties entered into the Tolling Agreements to attempt to resolve this matter via mediation, but this matter did not resolve at the mediation that occurred.

542. The most recent Tolling Agreement ("Tolling Agreement") entered into between the parties is a five page document that was signed by counsel for Vanderbilt and by counsel for the Plaintiff.⁵

543. The Tolling Agreement states on page 1 that "Respondent" includes "Vanderbilt University Medical Center and its physicians, staff, agents and employees, including, but not limited to, Gretchen Edwards."

⁵ Counsel for Vanderbilt communicated to counsel for the Plaintiff on February 6, 2019 that he had no concern regarding the Tolling Agreement being referenced in the Complaint.

544. The Tolling Agreement states on page 1 that "Claimants" includes Bretton Keefer, including on behalf of the decedent, Chesta Shoemaker.

545. The Tolling Agreement states on page 1 that the Effective Date for purposes of the Tolling Agreement is July 24, 2018.

546. July 24, 2018 is prior to August 12, 2018.

547. The number of days from July 24, 2018 to August 12, 2018 is 19 days.

548. The Tolling Agreement states on page 2, including in paragraph 2, that the Tolling Agreement terminates on February 1, 2019.

549. Per the Tolling Agreement, the statute of limitations did not run from July 24, 2018 through February 1, 2019.

550. The Tolling Agreement stopped the running of the statute of limitations at a point when at least 19 days were left to file a health care liability lawsuit regarding Ms. Shoemaker's death.

551. The Tolling Agreement states on page 2, including in the first sentence of paragraph 3, that "Claimant and Respondent hereby agree, through their counsel, to toll the statutes of limitations and repose for the filing of any Claims or causes of action/lawsuits by Claimants against the Respondent."

552. The Tolling Agreement states on page 2, including in the second sentence of paragraph 3, that "all applicable statute of limitations and/or statutes of repose will be tolled as to the Respondent from the Effective Date until 6:00 p.m. CST on February 1, 2019."

553. With the "Effective Date" in the Tolling Agreement being July 24, 2018, the Tolling Agreement tolls the statute of limitations from July 24, 2018 through February 1, 2019.

554. The Tolling Agreement states on page 2, including in the third sentence of paragraph 3, that "The period of time that the statutes are tolled shall be added to the time for bringing an action for any of Claimant's Claims pursuant to state and/or federal law."

555. The period of time from the Effective Date of the Tolling Agreement of July 24, 2018 to when the Tolling Agreement terminated, February 1, 2019, is 192 days.

556. When 192 days is added to August 12, 2018 (which would have been the statute of limitations filing deadline absent a Tolling Agreement), the resulting date is February 20, 2019.

557. When 19 days is added to February 1, 2019, the resulting date is February 20, 2019.

558. Per Tennessee law and the Tolling Agreement, this lawsuit is timely filed if it was filed by February 20, 2019.

559. This lawsuit was filed by February 20, 2019.

560. February 13, 2019 is one week prior to the February 20, 2019 deadline for the filing of this lawsuit, pursuant to Tennessee law and pursuant to the Tolling Agreement.

561. This lawsuit was filed by February 13, 2019.

562. This lawsuit was filed within the applicable statute of limitations period, including when the Tolling Agreement is considered.

563. This suit was filed within the applicable statute of limitations period (as extended by Tenn. Code Ann. §29-26-121 and per the 192 days "added" to the limitations period via the Tolling Agreement).

INAPPLICABILITY OF STATUTORY NON-ECONOMIC DAMAGES CAPS

564. Tenn. Code Ann. §29-39-102 purports to impose a monetary cap on the amount of "non-economic" damages that a jury can award in a personal injury or wrongful death case, with a different monetary cap applying in a wrongful death case involving the parent of a minor child.

565. Ms. Shoemaker had three sons at the time of her April 14, 2017 death.

566. Ms. Shoemaker had two minor sons at the time of her April 14, 2017 death.

567. Each of Ms. Shoemaker's three surviving sons has their own loss of consortium claim as part of this wrongful death lawsuit.

568. None of the three sons' loss of consortium claims is exactly the same as any other son, including based on their ages, the remaining years of their youth that they will not have their mother, their personal and unique relationships with their mother, and for other factual reasons.

569. Pursuant to Tenn. Code Ann. §29-39-102(h), there is no cap on the amount of non-economic damages a jury can award a plaintiff in a case where "the defendant intentionally... falsified ... records containing material evidence with the purpose of wrongfully evading liability in the case at issue."

570. The Defendants are not protected by any statutory cap on non-economic damages because the Vanderbilt records contain entries, including incorrect times for key events (i.e. when it was first discovered that Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA was cannulated; when Ms. Shoemaker first demonstrated a neurological change for the worse on April 13, 2017) and because documentation made after knowledge of the fact that Ms. Shoemaker's R CCA was cannulated suddenly and conveniently for the Defendants included details not mentioned in similar documentation made that same day about the same procedure but that was made prior to the creation of the additional documentation learning that the R CCA was cannulated by the resident physician.

571. The Defendants are not protected by any statutory cap on punitive damages because Tennessee's statutory cap on punitive damages is unconstitutional, including as held by the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals (federal court) in 2018.

Copy

572. Alternatively, Tenn. Code Ann. §29-39-102 is unconstitutional because it violates the right to a trial by jury enshrined in both the United States Constitution and the Tennessee Constitution.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiff prays for the following relief:

1. That proper process issue and be served upon the Defendants, and the Defendants be required to appear and answer this Complaint within the time required by law;
2. That the Plaintiff be awarded fair and reasonable damages, including compensatory damages up to $15,000,000 and punitive damages up to $30,000,000;
3. That the Plaintiff be awarded the costs of trying this action;
4. That this action be heard by a jury;
5. That costs of this action be taxed to the Defendants;
6. That prejudgment interest be awarded to the Plaintiff for economic damages;
7. That the Plaintiff be awarded all and any such other and further relief as the Court deems proper; and,
8. That Plaintiff's right to amend this Complaint to conform to the evidence be reserved.

S T I P U L A T I O N S

The deposition of Ronette Leal McCarthy was taken via Zoom on the 8th day of June, 2022, beginning at or about 10:00 a.m., at the instance of the Trustee, pursuant to the provisions of the Tennessee Rules of Civil Procedure.

It is agreed that Lea Anne Gray, court reporter and notary public for the State of Tennessee, may swear the witness, take her deposition by stenographic means, and afterwards reduce same to typewritten form.

All formalities as to notice, caption, certificate, and signing of the deposition by the deponent are waived. All objections, except as to the form of the question, are reserved to the hearing of said matter.

1 RONETTE LEAL MCCARTHY,
2 having been first duly sworn, testified as follows:
3 EXAMINATION BY MR. YOUNG:

4 Q. Good morning, Ms. McCarthy. My name is
5 Phillip Young, and I represent Jeanne Burton, who is
6 the court-appointed Bankruptcy Trustee for Cummings
7 Manookian, PLLC. And, just for the record, I'll let
8 everyone know that Ms. Burton is in the room with me
9 this morning.

10 Ms. McCarthy, could you please state your full
11 name for the record?

12 A. Certainly. Ronette Leal McCarthy.

13 Q. Have you ever given a deposition
14 before?

15 A. I have not.

16 Q. So I'm going to explain some rules that 17 you probably know, but we'll go through them, anyway.
18 They're specially important, since, you know, Zoom
19 depositions are a little more awkward, even than 20 regular depositions. I'll ask that you answer all of 21 my questions audibly with a yes or a no, not just a
22 head shake or an uh-huh or huh-uh. I'll ask that you
23 answer all questions that I ask, even if another 24 attorney objects, unless someone specifically tells
25 you not to answer. And if that happens, we'll

1 resolve that issue before we move on. I expect this
2 to be relatively short, but if you need to take a
3 break, let me know. As long as we're not in the 4 middle of a question, I'll be happy to take a break.
5 I'm going to ask you a few questions that are sort of
6 unique to Zoom depositions. Where are you physically
7 located today?

8 A. Today, I'm in my home.

9 Q. Is there anyone else in the room with 10 you?

11 A. There is not.

12 Q. Okay. How many screens are powered on 13 in the room that you're in?

14 A. Just one.

15 Q. Do you have any paper in front of you
16 this morning?

17 A. Just the exhibits.

18 Q. So you don't have any notes, whether 19 they're on paper or pulled up on your screen?

20 A. I do not.

21 Q. Do you have any communication apps open
22 on your computer, like texting or instant messaging
23 or anything like that?

24 A. I do not.

25 Q. Ms. McCarthy, you're a licensed

1 attorney; is that correct?

2 A. I am.

3 Q. In what state are you licensed?

4 A. Illinois.

5 Q. Do you currently practice law with that

6 license?

7 A. I do.

8 Q. In what area of law do you practice?

9 A. There's a few. I'm inhouse counsel for

10 Elements Cremation Company. I have my own practice,

11 where I do real estate closings, end of life issues,

12 wills, trusts, small business representations, and

13 then a piece of it is referrals in regards to 14 personal injury matters.

15 Q. You said you are inhouse counsel. I'm

16 sorry. I didn't catch the name of the company.

17 What's the name of the company?

18 A. Elements Cremation.

19 Q. And I assume that's a crematory?

20 A. Correct.

21 Q. Ms. McCarthy, you're familiar with a

22 Fitzgerald v. Osborne case that was filed in

23 Tennessee, aren't you?

24 A. I am.

25 Q. And I'm going to preface this by

1 saying, I don't want you to violate any
2 attorney/client privilege or anything like that, so
3 I'm not asking you any of those questions. And if my
4 questions get afoul of that, I'm sure you'll let me
5 know. But my intention is not to violate -- to ask
6 you to violate the attorney/client privilege. But
7 without violating any attorney/client privilege,
8 explain to me how you became involved in the 9 Fitzgerald versus Osborne matter.

10 A. The Fitzgeralds and myself have been
11 friends for probably 40 plus years. And in that 12 regard, they came to me asking for assistance after 13 their daughter passed. They had already received
14 calls from other counsel and were thinking that they
15 needed to find representation.

16 Q. So did you assist them in finding
17 Tennessee counsel?

18 A. I did.

19 Q. What did you do in order to help them
20 find Tennessee counsel?

21 A. I reached out to a number of Tennessee
22 counsel. I went through some initial intake, as I do
23 with all clients who come to me looking for counsel
24 to represent them in any personal injury matter. So
25 I had phone calls with a few different counsel

1 licensed in Tennessee.

2 Q. And you eventually spoke to Brian
3 Manookian about that representation?

4 A. I did.

5 Q. How did you get Mr. Manookian's name?

6 A. From another friend that lives in
7 Tennessee.

8 Q. So he was referred to you by someone
9 else?

10 A. By a -- yeah, by a private party.

11 Q. Again, without violating any privilege,
12 tell me about your conversations with Mr. Manookian
13 prior to the Fitzgeralds meeting with him.

14 A. It was basic introduction, learning
15 about his practice area. He described his wins, his 16 success rate, his commitment to his clients.

17 Q. Approximately how many times did you
18 speak with Mr. Manookian before the Fitzgeralds met
19 him?

20 A. I believe it was only a couple of times
21 on the phone.

22 Q. And why did you ultimately refer the 23 Fitzgeralds to Mr. Manookian?

24 A. He seemed to be the best choice for 25 them to have commitment to his clients. I'm not

1 unfamiliar with working with personal injury counsel,
2 and, at that point, he seemed to be the one that
3 would work the hardest for them.

4 Q. At the time you first had conversations
5 with Mr. Manookian, did you understand him to be a
6 member of a law firm?

7 A. I did.

8 Q. What was the name of that firm?

9 A. Cummings Manookian.

10 Q. Did the Fitzgeralds ultimately engage
11 Cummings Manookian to represent them?

12 A. That is my understanding, yes, in what
13 I read on the retainer agreement.

14 Q. And were you ever given a copy of an 15 engagement letter between Cummings Manookian and the 16 Fitzgeralds?

17 A. I was.

18 Q. Was that before or after they signed
19 the engagement letter?

20 A. After they signed it.

21 Q. Okay. I want to ask you to look at
22 what's been marked as -- pre-marked as Exhibit One.
23 And I circulated it around to all parties this 24 morning. And I'll represent to you, just to make
25 sure that we're looking at the right letter, Exhibit

1 One, it's a letter on Cummings Manookian letterhead
2 dated May 23, 2018, addressed to Marty and Melissa
3 Fitzgerald with a RE line of legal representation and
4 engagement. Do you see that letter?

5 A. I do.

6 Q. Okay.

7 A. Excuse me if I have to blow my nose.
8 We live here in Illinois, where allergies are 9 abundant right now. So --

10 Q. No problem.

11 A. -- I apologize.

12 Q. We might be in the same position but
13 for a lot of rain the last few days.

14 (EXHIBIT NO. 1 WAS DESIGNATED.)

15 BY MR. YOUNG:

16 Q. Have you seen this document that's
17 marked as Exhibit One before?

18 A. I have.

19 Q. Okay. What is this?

20 A. This is the legal representation and
21 engagement letter to me, and Marty and Melissa
22 Fitzgerald and the Cummings Manookian Law Firm.

23 Q. And is this the copy of the engagement
24 letter that was sent to you? And I'll specifically
25 direct you to page two, second paragraph of the

1 contingency fee section, where it says, We will work
2 with Attorney Ronette McCarthy in this matter. Was
3 this the copy of the engagement letter that was sent
4 to you?

5 A. It is.

6 Q. And did you produce a copy of this
7 document to the Trustee in response to a subpoena?

8 A. I did.

9 Q. And that language that I just read,
10 where it specifically references you, was that 11 language in the version of this letter that was sent 12 to you?

13 A. It was.

14 Q. And do you recall when this letter was 15 sent to you?

16 A. It was a few weeks after the 17 engagement, upon my request.

18 Q. So you asked for a copy of it?

19 A. Correct.

20 Q. And this is what was sent to you,
21 what's been marked as Exhibit One?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. Now, I want to ask you to pick up the 24 document that's been pre-marked as Exhibit Two,
25 which, again, is another letter on Cummings Manookian

1 letterhead dated May 23, 2018, same date, to Marty
2 and Melissa Fitzgerald regarding legal representation
3 and engagement. But I'll represent to you, this is 4 slightly different than the one that you just looked 5 at. And, specifically, I'll direct you, again, to 6 page two, under the contingency fee section, second
7 paragraph. Do you see where it says, We may work
8 with other attorneys in this matter? Do you see 9 that?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Do you see your name referenced
12 anywhere in that paragraph?

13 A. I do not.

14 Q. Have you ever seen a copy of this
15 letter that's been marked as Exhibit Two?

16 A. Not until it became marked as Exhibit
17 Two.

18 Q. So today is the first time you've ever
19 seen a copy of this letter?

20 A. I saw it when you forwarded it, when 21 the first deposition was scheduled, a number of weeks
22 ago.

23 Q. Prior to me sending this to you as a
24 potential exhibit, you had never seen this copy of 25 this letter?

1 A. I had not.

2 Q. Do you know whether this letter was
3 ever reviewed by the Fitzgeralds?

4 A. I do not.

5 Q. And you were never sent a copy of this
6 letter by either the Fitzgeralds or by Mr. Manookian?

7 A. I was not.

8 Q. So you don't know whether or not they 9 signed a copy of this letter?

10 A. I do not.

11 Q. Or whether they authorized this letter?

12 A. I do not.

13 (EXHIBIT NO. 2 WAS DESIGNATED.)

14 BY MR. YOUNG:

15 Q. Did you ever speak with an attorney
16 named Afsoon Hagh prior to the Fitzgeralds engaging
17 Cummings Manookian in this matter?

18 A. No. .

19 Q. Did Mr. Manookian ever tell you that 20 Ms. Hagh would be working on the case?

21 A. Yes, at one point.

22 Q. Okay. When was that?

23 A. When he was suspended.

24 Q. And we'll talk about that in a minute.
25 But prior to his suspension, you had never spoken

1 with Ms. Hagh?

2 A. I had not.

3 Q. And you didn't know that she was
4 involved in the case at all?

5 A. My only knowledge was that she worked
6 at the firm, with Brian and with Cummings, as well.

7 Q. What were you told about her role at 8 Cummings Manookian, if anything?

9 A. From my recollection, just that it
10 would be very limited. Brian was the point person;
11 it was Brian's case; Brian was the primary contact.
12 It was always all about Brian being in charge and 13 leading the case.

14 Q. Were you ever told whether Ms. Hagh was 15 a partner and associate, a contractor, anything like
16 that with Cummings Manookian?

17 A. I don't think that conversation ever
18 came up.

19 Q. And the only thing you were told about 20 her role in the case was that it was going to be 21 limited?

22 A. I'm not even certain that those words
23 were used, limited, but that she was, you know, part
24 of the firm, but I didn't know to what degree.

25 Q. And prior to Mr. Manookian's

1 suspension, you had never spoken with Ms. Hagh?

2 A. No.

3 Q. And I'm jumping ahead just a bit, but
4 after his suspension, approximately how many times
5 did you speak with Ms. Hagh?

6 A. Probably just one or two.

7 Q. And were those substantive
8 conversations about the case?

9 A. They were not. She responded to my
10 continual calls after I learned Brian was suspended,
11 and per court order, they were to notify counsel,
12 myself, and I had no notice.

13 Q. You weren't given notice of the 14 suspension?

15 A. I was not.

16 Q. How did you learn about the suspension?

17 A. The client.

18 Q. How did the client learn about his
19 suspension?

20 A. Conversation with Brian is my 21 understanding.

22 Q. Tell me about your involvement in the 23 Fitzgerald case.

24 A. That is sort of a broad question.
25 Would you like to be more specific?

1 Q. Yeah, sure. What was your role in the
2 case? Did you draft pleadings; did you review
3 pleadings; did you -- how often did you communicate
4 with counsel; how often did you communicate with the 5 client, those types things?

6 A. Okay. Brian and I talked often and
7 communicated often throughout, from the beginning
8 until close to when it settled.

9 Q. Did you review pleadings?

10 A. I did. There were various pleadings
11 forwarded. One specific that I can mention is the 12 summary judgment motion. The PowerPoint drafts were 13 even forwarded. And the conversation with Brian was,
14 you know, take a look at it, let's review it.

15 Q. Who forwarded you the drafted motion
16 for summary judgment?

17 A. I'd have to look at the e-mails, which 18 I have not. I believe that may have been during the 19 time that Brian was suspended, so it may have come
20 from Afsoon.

21 Q. And who forwarded you the PowerPoint
22 presentation?

23 A. It may have been the same, but, again,
24 that's just from my memory.

25 MR. SPRAGENS: I'm sorry. I just want

1 to object to your -- I'm looking at this privilege
2 log, and I'm trying to understand if the witness is 3 asserting work product privilege or not over these
4 communications.

5 BY MR. YOUNG:

6 Q. Let's talk about the privilege log. In
7 response to a subpoena for documents in this case,
8 you produced a privilege log to the Trustee, correct?

9 A. Correct, yes.

10 Q. And did that privilege log detail all
11 of the conversations, whether written or by 12 telephone, that you had regarding the Fitzgerald
13 matter?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. And I'll ask you to look at what's been 16 pre-marked as Exhibit Three to this deposition and 17 ask if this is the privilege log that you compiled in 18 response to the Trustee's subpoena?

19 A. It is.

20 Q. And is all of the information on this
21 log true and correct to the best of your knowledge?

22 A. Yes.

23 (EXHIBIT NO. 3 WAS DESIGNATED.)

24 BY MR. YOUNG:

25 Q. And to Mr. Spragens' point, I'm going

1 to ask you some questions about this exhibit, but I'm
2 not asking you for privileged information. So if we
3 get to the point where you feel like I'm asking
4 something that's privileged, I trust that you'll let 5 me know, because I'm not intending to ask you to 6 violate any privilege. But I do want to ask you
7 about some of the entries.

8 Specifically, let's look at the entries prior to 9 May 23, 2018. There is a handful of, it looks
10 like -- one, two, three, four, five, six -- six lines
11 prior to May 23, 2018; is that right?

12 A. Correct.

13 Q. And if you look back at Exhibit One,
14 you will see that May 23, 2018 is the date that the 15 Fitzgeralds engaged Cummings Manookian; is that
16 right?

17 A. Pursuant to this privilege log, yes.

18 Q. Right. Those entries prior to May
19 23rd, does that fairly describe your communications
20 prior to the execution of the engagement letter
21 between the Fitzgeralds and Cummings Manookian?

22 A. To my knowledge, yes.

23 Q. And all of these are communications
24 directly with Brian Manookian, correct?

25 A. To my knowledge, yes.

1 Q. Except for the first one, which says,
2 Number of telephone conferences with the Fitzgeralds,
3 right?

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. And once the engagement letter was
6 signed, it looks like there were a number of e-mails
7 between you and Mr. Manookian concerning the 8 Fitzgerald case from around June 4, 2018 through
9 November; is that right?

10 A. Through November of 2018, yes.

11 Q. And other than the very first one that 12 says, Around 6/4/2018, telephone conference with 13 Fitzgeralds, other than that and a 10/2/2018 e-mail
14 from Manookian to Marty Fitzgerald and RLM, which I
15 assume is you, correct? RLM, is you?

16 A. Correct, yes.

17 Q. Other than those two, it looks like all
18 of these communications from June to November were 19 between you and Mr. Manookian; is that right?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. It looks like some of those e-mails
22 were from you to Mr. Manookian, and some were from 23 Mr. Manookian to you; is that accurate?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. Is it fair to say that you were being

1 kept in the loop about what was going on with regards
2 to the Fitzgerald case during that time?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. Were you reviewing any pleadings before
5 they were filed during this time?

6 A. There were documents that were
7 forwarded to me. I don't know if I reviewed them
8 prior to the filing.

9 Q. Do you remember if you reviewed the 10 complaint before it was filed?

11 A. No.

12 Q. You don't recall or you didn't?

13 A. I don't recall if I did or not.

14 Q. And during the time from the execution
15 of the engagement agreement on May 23, 2018 until the 16 end of November 2018, you had no e-mails or
17 conversations with Afsoon Hagh?

18 A. I would have to look back here and see
19 when my first -- that one conversation was with her,
20 but, again, not recalling the date of Mr. Manookian's
21 suspension, I had not had telephone conversations
22 with Afsoon prior to that.

23 Q. If I represent to you that the date he 24 was suspended was in December of 2018, then would you
25 agree that you had no conversations with Afsoon Hagh

1 prior to November of 2018?

2 A. If that's the date of his suspension, I
3 had no prior conversations with Afsoon.

4 Q. Was Ms. Hagh copied on any e-mails from
5 Mr. Manookian to you during this time?

6 A. Periodically. It was not consistent.

7 Q. Prior to his suspension, Afsoon Hagh
8 never sent you any draft documents?

9 A. No.

10 Q. You mentioned earlier that, at some
11 point, you became aware that Mr. Manookian's law
12 license had been suspended. Do you recall when you
13 learned that?

14 A. From your telling me right now, the 15 suspension was in December of 2018, I'm going to say
16 it was on or, you know, after that date. I remember
17 when I did learn about it. It was, you know, a
18 number of days, if not more than a week plus, that 19 the suspension had already taken effect.

20 Q. I think you mentioned that you learned
21 about that from the Fitzgeralds?

22 A. I learned about it -- and I do want to 23 correct that, too. I learned about it from the 24 Fitzgeralds, but almost at the same time, too, I had 25 done my own search and saw that he was suspended, as

1 well.

2 Q. Do you know how the Fitzgeralds learned
3 of the suspension?

4 A. I don't recall if it was either Brian
5 Manookian or Afsoon, but one of them told them.

6 Q. Do you know if they were notified by
7 telephone or by letter?

8 A. I do not know.

9 Q. Have you ever seen a copy of the letter
10 from Mr. Manookian to the Fitzgeralds notifying them
11 of his suspension?

12 A. No.

13 Q. Do you know whether the Fitzgeralds
14 ever interviewed other counsel in December of 2018
15 about engaging new counsel?

16 A. From my conversation with Ms. Hagh, it
17 was that they were just going to stay with the same
18 law firm. There didn't seem to be any response from 19 her that there was going to be any review of any 20 other counsel during that time.

21 MR. SPRAGENS: I just want to confirm
22 for the record that Ms. McCarthy is restating her
23 client's statements to her right now.

24 BY MR. YOUNG:

25 Q. During the time that Mr. Manookian was

1 suspended, did you have any discussions with
2 Ms. Hagh?

3 A. Yes, one or two.

4 Q. Were those by e-mail or by telephone?

5 A. Telephone.

6 Q. Would those be reflected in this
7 privilege log?

8 A. Yes. Well, I see one of them, but that
9 would have been later.

10 Q. Which one do you see?

11 A. I see one on April 3, 2019, in regards
12 to -- with a procedural call in regards to mediation,
13 trial date, scheduling.

14 Q. And just for the record, that April 3rd
15 e-mail was from you to Ms. Hagh, correct?

16 A. That was an e-mail, correct. Yeah.

17 Q. And if you look at the next page on 18 April 15th, there is an e-mail from Ms. Hagh to you,
19 correct?

20 A. Correct. It was, again, just regarding 21 scheduling, nothing substantive.

22 Q. Other than those two instances, do you
23 see any entry on this privilege log that evidences a
24 communication between you and Ms. Hagh?

25 A. I do not.

1 Q. So your recollection is that you only
2 had one or two conversations with Ms. Hagh while
3 Mr. Manookian was suspended?

4 A. I did, and her -- she returned one of
5 my voicemails left, and I don't -- I can't tell you
6 if it was a voicemail left on the general office
7 number or on her direct number, and it was a
8 conversation just to say, Brian will call you to 9 discuss, you know, the suspension and what's 10 occurring.

11 Q. During the time that Mr. Manookian's
12 license was suspended, did Ms. Hagh ever send you
13 drafts of pleadings, that you recall?

14 A. I believe, during that time, it was 15 just the summary judgment PowerPoint presentation.

16 Q. Did Mr. Manookian ever send you drafts
17 of pleadings while he was suspended?

18 A. Not to my memory were there drafts sent
19 from him. There were telephone conversations.

20 Q. I want to ask you about a couple of 21 specific entries on this log. If you will, get out
22 Exhibit Three. And the first one that I'm going to 23 ask about is on February 4, 2019. There's an entry
24 that says, e-mail from Manookian to RLM. And the 25 summary says, Update regarding summary judgment

1 motion. Do you see that?

2 A. I do.

3 Q. So you received an e-mail on February
4 4, 2019 from Mr. Manookian updating you on the status
5 of the summary judgment?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. That didn't come from Afsoon Hagh?

8 A. No.

9 Q. Do you remember if she was copied on 10 that e-mail?

11 A. I do not.

12 Q. In February of 2019, did you find it
13 odd that Mr. Manookian was providing you that update
14 and not Ms. Hagh?

15 A. I don't know if I would call it odd.

16 Q. How would you describe it?

17 A. It seemed to me that he was just as 18 involved in the case as he had always been.

19 Q. The next entry on this log says,
20 February 4, 2019 to March 4, 2019 --

21 A. Correct.

22 Q. -- communications from RLM to
23 Manookian, return e-mails from Manookian. And the 24 summary says, Update strategy discussions regarding
25 pending motions. Do you see that?

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. And were all of those communications
3 during that time with Brian Manookian?

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. Was Afsoon Hagh actively involved in
6 any of those communications?

7 A. Could you describe what you mean by 8 actively?

9 Q. Did any of those e-mails or calls come
10 from Ms. Hagh?

11 A. Not to my knowledge, no. Not to my
12 memory, no.

13 Q. Do you know if she was copied on those 14 e-mails?

15 A. I do not recall. Again, she would be 16 copied sporadically on things during the entire
17 matter.

18 Q. Next, look at the next two entries. It
19 looks like you e-mailed Afsoon Hagh on April 3, 2019.
20 It says, e-mail from RLM to Afsoon Hagh. Summary,
21 initial e-mail to Afsoon Hagh regarding scheduling of 22 mediation and trial update. And then the next entry,
23 on the same day, shows an e-mail from Mr. Manookian
24 to you that says, Update regarding litigation and 25 pending motions. Do you see that?

1 A. I do.

2 Q. Did Mr. Manookian respond to your
3 e-mail asking Ms. Hagh for an update?

4 A. I would have to look at the e-mail. I
5 don't recall. I know that the e-mail was back and
6 forth with us, mine to Afsoon telling her, but I
7 don't recall if Brian was responding to that or not.

8 Q. And the only e-mail from Ms. Hagh on 9 this list, if you'll turn to the next page, appears
10 on April 15, 2019; is that right?

11 A. Correct.

12 Q. And that says, e-mails from Hagh to 13 RLM, update regarding scheduling of litigation. Do
14 you see that?

15 A. I do.

16 Q. And then let's look down the next few
17 lines, from April 30, 2019 through May 8, 2019.
18 There are a few entries that say, Update regarding 19 reinstatement of law license and regarding 20 reinstatement acknowledgement. Do you see that?

21 A. I do.

22 Q. What do you remember about those
23 communications?

24 A. Brian telling me that he was back.

25 Q. And after Mr. Manookian's

1 reinstatement, did you continue to be involved in
2 this case?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. What did you do after his
5 reinstatement?

6 A. I'm looking at the timeline here. I
7 recall that the mediation was coming and the trial
8 date, and there was always discussion of me being
9 present for the mediation and for the trial. So
10 there was discussion in regards to that. In looking,
11 I can see that there were e-mails in regards to trial
12 strategy that Brian talked about, and in regards to 13 what his thoughts were in regards to witnesses, you
14 know, just how the trial was going to play out. We 15 had many back and forths in regards to that.

16 Q. So you were involved -- I'm sorry. I
17 think there was some feedback. You were involved in 18 those discussions?

19 A. I'm sorry. I couldn't hear what you
20 said.

21 Q. Were you involved in those discussions
22 about litigation updates and strategies?

23 A. With Mr. Manookian?

24 Q. Yes?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. You said there was discussion about you
2 being involved in the mediation. Were you ultimately
3 present at the mediation?

4 A. I was not.

5 Q. Why not?

6 A. Brian said he was going to proceed
7 forward with just himself.

8 Q. Do you know why?

9 A. I do not.

10 Q. But you were aware that mediation
11 occurred?

12 A. I was.

13 Q. When did you learn that the case had
14 settled?

15 A. Sometime after the case had settled.

16 Q. How did you learn that the case was
17 settled?

18 A. From third-parties and from --

19 Q. I'm sorry. Go ahead.

20 A. -- from third-parties and discussion
21 with The Court myself.

22 Q. Mr. Manookian never let you know that 23 the case settled?

24 A. He did not.

25 Q. Ms. Hagh never let you know the case

1 settled?

2 A. He did not -- or she did not.

3 Q. The Fitzgeralds never let you know the 4 case settled?

5 A. I do not believe, the Fitzgeralds.

6 Q. Did they tell you immediately after
7 that the case had settled?

8 A. I knew a short time after.

9 Q. From the Fitzgeralds?

10 A. I don't recall which came first, to be 11 honest.

12 Q. Were you ever told that the Fitzgeralds
13 didn't want you to share in the fees in this case?

14 A. No.

15 Q. You see that the last several entries
16 on this log in August of 2019 into October of 2019
17 all reference the scheduling of a telephone
18 conference. Do you see that?

19 A. I do.

20 Q. Did you ever have that telephone
21 conference?

22 A. No.

23 Q. Were these messages ever returned to 24 you?

25 A. Some of them were returned from

1 Mr. Manookian with a, I'll call you later or I have a
2 one o'clock meeting, but there was never a
3 conversation.

4 Q. You were never told, in response to any
5 of these communications, that the case had settled?

6 A. Not from Mr. Manookian.

7 Q. Let's take a break until 10:40. I'm
8 getting close to being done.

9 (Whereupon, after a short break, the following 10 proceedings were had.)

11 BY MR. YOUNG:

12 Q. Ms. McCarthy, from your perspective,
13 what was Afsoon's -- Afsoon Hagh's role in the
14 Fitzgerald case?

15 A. From my perspective, some support
16 possibly to Brian, but it seems -- at least all of my 17 contact with her had been very administrative,
18 meaning scheduling, you know. But, again, that was 19 only a few times.

20 Q. What did she do that you believe
21 assisted in the outcome of this case?

22 A. I don't know her to have any impact in 23 the outcome of this case.

24 Q. Is there anything else that you would
25 like to say about your involvement in the Fitzgerald

1 matter or anything else that you think is important
2 for the parties to know in this case?

3 A. Nothing that comes to mind.

4 Q. I have no further questions.

5 EXAMINATION BY MR. SPRAGENS:

6 Q. Ms. McCarthy, my name is John Spragens.
7 I represent Brian Manookian and Manookian PLLC in
8 this matter. Can you hear me okay?

9 A. I can hear you, yes.

10 Q. I believe you testified that you
11 referred the case to Mr. Manookian; is that right?

12 A. I did. Is it not possible to see you,
13 Mr. Spragens?

14 Q. No. I'm just going to stay by phone
15 today, due to my office situation at the moment.

16 What other lawyers did you speak with, besides
17 Mr. Manookian, before referring the case?

18 A. You know, I would have to look back.
19 This goes back a number of years. That's something
20 that I did not review in preparation for this
21 deposition. But there was a number of them that I
22 spoke to in Tennessee.

23 Q. Was the subpoena that you produced, the 24 privilege log, in response to asking you for those 25 communications, or did it not ask for those

1 communications?

2 A. For which communications?

3 Q. Any communications with other attorneys
4 about the Fitzgerald case.

5 A. I don't believe so.

6 Q. And as you sit here today, you don't 7 recall what other attorneys you spoke to on behalf of 8 the Fitzgeralds?

9 A. I talked to lots of attorneys
10 throughout the United States in regards to cases like 11 this. I cannot give you specific names in regards to 12 who I talked to before Brian Manookian.

13 Q. I think you testified that you and the 14 Fitzgeralds were friends for over 40 years; is that 15 correct?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. How did you first come to know the
18 Fitzgeralds?

19 A. Growing up in the same town.

20 Q. And is that a town in Illinois?

21 A. It is, yes.

22 Q. What town is that?

23 A. Sterling.

24 Q. And which of the Fitzgeralds did you
25 first come to know?

1 A. Probably Melissa, but it could have
2 been both of them. Marty was the older brother to
3 another friend of ours.

4 Q. How did you come to speak with them
5 about their loss that led to the case that we have
6 been talking about today?

7 A. I was a very close friend and assisted
8 with the funeral services for them.

9 Q. I think you testified that you provide 10 legal advice about end of life issues; is that right?

11 A. Correct.

12 Q. Is that through a law firm?

13 A. No. Well, both, I guess, yes. So
14 estates and trusts, and then in regards to families
15 that need cremation services that may need to be 16 pointed in the right direction after a loved one
17 passes, in regards to -- it could be simple things,
18 like what do they do with the driver's license to,
19 you know, who do they have to notify if they want to 20 sell a car.

21 Q. What was the law firm -- I'm sorry --
22 that you mentioned at the beginning of that response?

23 A. The law firm? I don't believe I told
24 you my law firm name.

25 Q. Oh, okay. Could you, please?

1 A. Yep. Leal McCarthy Law Group.

2 Q. And is that an active law practice
3 today?

4 A. It's new. So it's new, yes. If you
5 are asking what I was practicing under at the time of 6 this matter, it would be just the Law Office of
7 Ronette Leal McCarthy.

8 Q. Was that incorporated in any way?

9 A. The Law Office of Ronette Leal
10 McCarthy, no.

11 Q. So you were a solo practitioner, in the 12 sense that you didn't have, like, an LLC or some 13 other corporate form?

14 A. Correct.

15 Q. At that time, that the Fitzgeralds
16 spoke with you after the loss of their daughter, were 17 you also working inhouse at Element Cremation?

18 A. I was.

19 Q. Did they come to you with respect to 20 the services that Element Cremation provided or just 21 independently as friends?

22 A. No. It had nothing to do with that.
23 We're personal friends.

24 Q. What is your role as an inhouse
25 attorney at Element Cremation?

1 A. To help in regards to any business
2 aspects of Elements Cremation. And then as I already
3 stated, if there is any families that have any 4 questions in regards to, you know, notifying social
5 security, how to, you know, finalize insurance
6 payments, maybe life insurance, what do they have to 7 do with a home, a car, those type of things.

8 Q. I think you testified that you're
9 licensed to practice law in Illinois; is that right?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Are you licensed to practice law in 12 Tennessee?

13 A. I am not.

14 Q. Are you licensed to practice law in any 15 other states?

16 A. I am not.

17 Q. With respect to your Illinois law
18 license, that's been active since before January 1, 19 2018?

20 A. Correct.

21 Q. Are you affiliated with any other
22 businesses or law practices, aside from your own
23 personal practice and Element Creation?

24 A. No. It's cremation. Elements
25 Cremation.

1 Q. Sorry. I think I said that, but my
2 connection may not be very good.

3 A. Okay.

4 Q. And at the time that the Fitzgeralds
5 contacted you about Megan's death, you were
6 affiliated with your own law practice and Element
7 Cremation; is that right?

8 A. If you want to say affiliated with,
9 again, that's where I work. The Fitzgeralds
10 contacted me, because I'm their personal friend.

11 Q. But were you also maintaining a private

13 A. Correct.

14 Q. Were you representing clients in that
15 practice, at the time?

16 A. It's more an advisory role. I have two 17 young children. And so I would have to look back in 18 2018, but I did have some other clients that were
19 similar to the Fitzgeralds that were all using, you
20 know, other counsel for personal injury matters.

21 Q. At the time they came to you, which was
22 prior to May 18, 2018, did you have engagement
23 agreements with any clients, other than through your 24 work at Element Cremation?

25 A. No. Other personal injury firms had

1 engagement agreements with clients that I had
2 referred to them.

3 Q. Did you ever have an engagement
4 agreement with the Fitzgeralds, other than the 5 agreement that we looked at earlier today, the 6 Cummings Manookian agreement?

7 A. Individually, no. That's not my
8 position.

9 Q. Do you have any ownership interest in 10 Element Cremation?

11 A. No.

12 Q. How did you get Mr. Manookian's name,
13 originally, do you recall?

14 A. I believe I answered that with 15 Mr. Young. Would you like me to answer it, again?

16 Q. Sure.

17 A. I did some research in regards to 18 counsel in the Tennessee area, and then I also have 19 some individuals that live outside -- friends that 20 live outside of the Nashville area, and both through
21 my research and then a friend, his name came up.

22 Q. So when you say research, you mean
23 online research?

24 A. Correct, yes. Just looking at who the 25 counsel are, and, you know, the area they practice,

1 doing some reading on them.

2 Q. And who was the friend you spoke with
3 before referring the case to Mr. Manookian?

4 A. John Menefee.

5 Q. And how did Mr. Menefee know
6 Mr. Manookian, to the extent that you are aware?

7 A. I do not know.

8 Q. What was the nature of his experience
9 with him in the past, such that he gave you a
10 recommendation?

11 A. I don't believe Mr. Manookian and 12 Mr. Menefee know each other directly.

13 Q. Is Mr. Menefee an attorney?

14 A. He is not.

15 Q. Do you know anything about
16 Mr. Menefee's awareness of or experience with 17 Mr. Manookian before that referral?

18 A. Again, I don't believe it was personal
19 experience.

20 Q. But do you know anything about what led 21 him to, if I'm understanding you correctly, vouch for 22 Mr. Manookian as an appropriate referral source?

23 A. I do not.

24 Q. And am I understanding you correctly
25 that Mr. Menefee vouched for Mr. Manookian as an

1 appropriate referral source, let's say, referral
2 recipient for you?

3 A. I would not use the word vouch, no. It
4 was a name that he was provided. I cannot tell you
5 who or where it came from. And I had also come
6 across Brian Manookian's name, so kind of twice
7 seeing the name and hearing it. I don't believe
8 there was any vouching on Mr. Menefee's part of Brian
9 Manookian.

10 Q. So is it correct that you sort of 11 contacted Mr. Menefee to ask him if he had any 12 recommendations for personal injury and wrongful
13 death attorneys in Middle Tennessee?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. And do you recall if the only name he
16 came back with was Mr. Manookian's, or were there
17 multiple names?

18 A. I believe that there were a couple.
19 There was at least one other, but I had already kind
20 of crossed that person off my list.

21 Q. And who was that?

22 A. You know, again, I don't recall exact
23 names, but I know that there were two names that
24 Mr. Menefee gave me.

25 Q. I'm sorry. Did you say two names or a

1 few names?

2 A. Two. It was two. But I don't remember
3 who. I talked to a number of counsel prior to that,
4 and then a number of counsel, you know, at the 5 conclusion of the Fitzgerald matter, too. So I don't 6 remember names.

7 Q. The other counsel that you talked to
8 before recommending Mr. Manookian to the Fitzgeralds,
9 did you have phone conversations with them, or how
10 did you come across the other counsels' names?

11 A. The wonderful world of Google.

12 Q. Got it. Was there anybody else, other
13 than Mr. Menefee, that you relied on locally for 14 expertise?

15 A. I wouldn't call Mr. Menefee's referral
16 to me as an expertise, because, again, he's not an 17 attorney. He's a lay person. It just happened to be 18 a name that he told me, and since Brian was a name
19 that I hadn't crossed out, yet, it was kind of, you
20 know, there's that name again, and I should probably 21 reach out to him.

22 Q. Is Mr. Menefee owed any portion of the 23 Fitzgerald fee, as far as you know?

24 A. No.

25 Q. And you're not planning to pay him

1 anything as a result of any fee in this case?

2 A. No. I believe that would be illegal.

3 Q. You are claiming a portion of the fee
4 in the Fitzgerald matter?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. And what portion of the fee do you
7 contend you're entitled to recover?

8 A. That had always been up to discussion
9 between Brian and I. And in the -- you know, it has 10 gone back and forth so many times in regards to the 11 bankruptcy matter, but our -- my fee that I am
12 standard with is a third, a third of a third. That's 13 based off of, you know, work like this throughout
14 Illinois and other states.

15 Q. And do you have a written agreement
16 with Mr. Manookian or anyone else memorializing that?

17 A. The engagement letter, and then there's 18 e-mails confirming it.

19 Q. So, first, with respect to the 20 engagement letter, does it specify what your portion 21 of the contingency fee will be?

22 A. It does not.

23 Q. And do you have e-mails in which it
24 spells out what your portion of the contingency fee
25 will be?

1 A. I do.

2 Q. And that portion is one-third of
3 one-third?

4 A. There was discussion, yes.

5 Q. Can you tell me what you mean by, there
6 was discussion?

7 A. Yes. That's what it says in the 8 e-mail.

9 Q. And did both sides, from your
10 perspective, agree to that?

11 A. Yes, because we went into great
12 conversation about what I was going to do with that 13 third of mine.

14 Q. What were you going to do with that 15 third?

16 A. The Fitzgeralds had planned on giving
17 to a not-for-profit during the case, prior to the 18 case and even during the case. It wasn't decided 19 exactly which one. They were very committed to 20 Megan's swimming and her school and also her future
21 pursuits, in regards to making prosthetics for 22 veterans that had lost limbs. So I had always talked 23 with Mr. Manookian that I would not be keeping the 24 third that I was going to take, but it was going to 25 be distributed amongst the not-for-profits that the

1 Fitzgeralds had selected. I asked him to not have
2 that conversation with them when they met. He went
3 into great, great conversations with me about how
4 wonderful that was, and how he had many times not
5 taken his amount, because he felt so committed to 6 different families that he had represented over time.

7 Q. And is it still your intention to 8 donate that portion of -- I mean, your full portion
9 of any recovery in this bankruptcy case to that 10 not-for-profit?

11 A. I think that question is irrelevant.

12 Q. That's fine. Is that still your 13 intention?

14 A. I'm not going to answer that question,
15 because I don't know what the answer to that is, at 16 this point.

17 Q. You're an attorney, and you're aware
18 that the Rules of Civil Procedure require you to 19 answer the questions, even if you think they are 20 irrelevant, in a deposition?

21 A. I do. And I don't have an answer for 22 you. I can't -- I honestly cannot tell you what will 23 be done if there's a recovery.

24 Q. Because as you sit here today, it's not 25 your intention to give all of that money to that

1 not-for-profit; is that correct?

2 A. My intention is to make certain that I
3 can pay the legal fees that I have incurred in 4 regards to representation for my involvement in this
5 bankruptcy matter.

6 Q. And those legal fees are the time
7 you've spent that's memorialized in the privilege
8 log?

9 A. No. I had to hire counsel in regards
10 to the bankruptcy matter that represented me
11 initially, that represented me to get my claim heard.

12 Q. Are you represented today in the 13 bankruptcy matter?

14 A. I am not.

15 Q. What's the total of your legal fees in 16 the bankruptcy matter?

17 A. Approximately $26,000.

18 Q. So your intention is to pay those legal
19 fees, and then do you know what's going to happen
20 with the remainder of any amount that you're paid in 21 the bankruptcy?

22 A. I do not.

23 Q. When was the last time you spoke with 24 Marty or Melissa Fitzgerald?

25 A. Approximately, right around the

1 conclusion of this matter. So whenever the date
2 would be. Right around the fall of 2019.

3 Q. And what was the nature of that
4 conversation?

5 A. The -- it was a text message.

6 Q. And can you tell me what it said?

7 A. From which part? The text message,
8 basically, just said that the matter was concluded,
9 and that was about it.

10 Q. Is that a text message you sent them or 11 they sent you?

12 A. I would have to look back and see who 13 initiated it. It's not something that I reviewed for 14 this deposition.

15 Q. Does that not fall within the scope of 16 the documents that you were asked to provide for the 17 deposition?

18 A. No, because it was a friendly -- I
19 mean, this matter was over, you know. We're friends.

20 Q. And that was in 2019?

21 A. Correct.

22 Q. Have you maintained your friendship
23 since that time?

24 A. I have not.

25 Q. And is that a decision you made, or a

1 decision that they made, or that both sides made?

2 A. I'm not sure that there is a correct
3 answer to that. What I have heard is that there were 4 other things told to them in regards to how I was 5 going to utilize the money, which wasn't true.

6 Q. What was told to them, as far as you
7 heard?

8 A. I was told that I was money-seeking,
9 and that I was going to use all of the proceeds for
10 my own benefit, and that I had even encouraged
11 Mr. Manookian to go after the Plaintiff individually
12 for more money outside of the insurance award.

13 Q. And do you deny that?

14 A. I absolutely, categorically deny that.

15 Q. Who told you that?

16 A. A third-party.

17 Q. And who was that?

18 A. Another friend of ours.

19 Q. What was that friend's name?

20 A. It came from multiple friends.

21 Q. And what were their names?

22 A. Andrew Burton, Jessica Wright.

23 Q. Anyone else?

24 A. No.

25 Q. You said that it was a false

1 representation that you were going to keep the money
2 for yourself, but you also --

3 A. I'm sorry. You cut out.

4 Q. I'm sorry. I believe you said that it
5 was a false representation that was made that you
6 were going to keep the remainder of the money for
7 yourself, or the attorney's fee for yourself, but you
8 also, today, are not prepared to testify what you're
9 going to do with the money; is that right?

10 A. Absolutely correct. A lot has 11 transpired between 2019 and 2022, and so for me to 12 answer that question honestly, I can't, because I
13 don't have an answer. It may still be donated, but 14 it just may not be donated to the Fitzgeralds' not-
15 or-profit.

16 Q. So is it fair to say that you've had a
17 falling out with them?

18 A. If that's what you want -- that's not
19 how I would categorize it, but if you wish to use
20 those words.

21 Q. How would you categorize it?

22 A. We just haven't talked in some time and 23 aren't friends, at this point. From what I have 24 heard, they have been lied to, in regards to many
25 things that I represented to Mr. Manookian, and it

1 has made for a very strained relationship.

2 Q. The statement that you said was false
3 is not necessarily false today?

4 A. Which is that?

5 Q. What you're planning to do with your
6 portion of any recovery.

7 A. I don't believe that you asked me if
8 the statement is false. What statement? Can you
9 read the statement back to me that you are asking if 10 it's false?

11 Q. I don't have a live transcript of this 12 deposition, but I believe what you said was that they 13 were told that you were going to keep your portion of 14 the proceeds, rather than donating it to their 15 nonprofit or their not-for-profit, and, today, you
16 can't say one way or the other of what you're going
17 to do with that portion of the proceeds; is that 18 right?

19 A. That's correct.

20 Q. Other than your initial referral of the 21 Fitzgeralds to Mr. Manookian, did you offer legal 22 advice to the family about the case?

23 A. I think you would have to be more
24 specific in regards to what legal advice. We did
25 have conversations throughout the case.

1 Q. Well, I am trying to walk that line, as
2 I'm sure you appreciate, between asking you about the
3 nature of the conversations and just finding out if
4 you gave them legal advice during the litigation. So
5 I have to rely on your own judgment as an attorney
6 here to find out if, in your view, you provided them
7 legal advice after the initial referral.

8 A. Yes, we had conversations in regards to 9 the case.

10 Q. And were those in the nature of sort of 11 strategy and kind of big picture conversations?

12 A. I would have to look back at what our
13 communications were to answer that for you.

14 Q. Did you include those communications in 15 the privilege log?

16 A. There were mentions of the Fitzgeralds
17 in the privilege log, yes.

18 Q. Let's look at Exhibit Three that was 19 designated by Mr. Young as your -- Exhibit Three to 20 this deposition, which was the privilege log that you
21 produced in response to his subpoena. Can you
22 identify for me any communications in here between 23 you and the Fitzgeralds, period?

24 A. On the first page, around 6/4/2018,
25 telephone conversation with the Fitzgeralds. In

1 regards to the 2/10 -- 2/18 -- I'm sorry -- the 2/18,
2 e-mail from Manookian to Marty Fitzgerald and I,
3 there was communication there.

4 Q. That's an e-mail that you received?

5 A. Correct. But nowhere else is the
6 Fitzgerald name mentioned, in my quick review.

7 Q. I think on June 4, 2019, there were
8 e-mails to the Fitzgeralds and you from Manookian; is 9 that right?

10 A. Yes. On June 4, 2019, yes.

11 Q. There's no communications after May 22,
12 2018, in which you -- oh, excuse me. I apologize --
13 after June 4, 2018, in which you were providing any 14 information to them; is that right?

15 A. Missy and I would have telephone calls
16 separately, as friends. You know, our only -- the 17 conversation wouldn't necessarily be in regards to 18 the case and what legal strategies were happening,
19 but, again, we were friends, as well.

20 Q. Well, that's tricky --

21 A. It is.

22 Q. -- because that's the two hats that, I
23 guess, you were wearing. But nothing else that 24 you've memorialized in this privilege log in which 25 you communicated legal advice to them or legal

1 strategy to them; is that right?

2 A. No. In regards to the case, that was
3 Brian's role.

4 Q. Do you know whether the Fitzgeralds
5 believe that you are entitled to a fee in this case
6 today?

7 A. I do not know. I have not asked them
8 that question.

9 Q. With respect to the privilege log, when
10 it says Manookian, does that always mean Brian
11 Manookian or might that mean the law firm?

12 A. No. If you look at 5/18/2018, after 13 Brian Manookian's name, I put a (Manookian). It
14 always means Brian Manookian.

15 Q. Okay. Is there somewhere on the 16 privilege log where you document a conversation about
17 Mr. Manookian's suspension from the practice of law?

18 A. There's a couple mentions of that. The 19 first one -- if you can find it quicker than I can,
20 you can note it. I know on 4/30, on page two,
21 4/30/2019, there's updates regarding the instatement
22 of law license. And then, two lines after that,
23 5/8/2019, from me. So there's three of them, I
24 guess, right there in a row regarding the 25 reinstatement of the law license between Brian and

1 myself.

2 Q. Anything about the original suspension,
3 which Mr. Young represented to you --

4 A. Yeah, I'm looking.

5 Q. -- went into effect in December of 6 2018?

7 A. I'm not seeing anything in regards to 8 the suspension.

9 Q. I think you testified that you learned
10 about the suspension from the Fitzgeralds; is that 11 right?

12 A. Melissa, correct.

13 Q. And that was in a friendly phone call
14 with Ms. Fitzgerald?

15 A. Correct.

16 Q. But you don't know when that took 17 place?

18 A. I do not.

19 Q. And that's not memorialized in this 20 privilege log anywhere?

21 A. No.

22 Q. You don't have any reason to believe
23 that Mr. Manookian did not inform the Fitzgeralds
24 about his initial suspension, do you?

25 A. No.

1 Q. Did Melissa tell --

2 A. Well --

3 Q. I'm sorry. Go ahead.

4 A. Brian Manookian told me that he told
5 them, so I'm going to believe him on his word, at 6 that point, that he told them.

7 Q. How did Melissa learn about the
8 suspension?

9 A. I don't -- if you're asking specifics,
10 if it was a telephone call or a letter, I can't
11 answer that. I just knew that she knew about it.

12 Q. I guess my first question probably is,
13 did she learn about it from Mr. Manookian or from 14 some other source?

15 A. I don't know. My memory tells me that 16 it was from Mr. Manookian himself.

17 Q. Okay. And that's -- I was trying to 18 clear up that point. But you don't have any reason
19 to believe that Mr. Manookian failed to inform the 20 Fitzgeralds about his suspension?

21 A. No. He -- no. I believe he told them,
22 told them, from my recollection, that once the 23 suspension was over, everything was going to go, you
24 know, back to how it was, he would be involved after 25 that point. I know that I was one that was not

1 notified per the, you know, per the court order, as
2 he was to notify all referring counsel, as well.

3 Q. And that's a court order that you
4 reviewed after talking to Melissa Fitzgerald?

5 A. Correct. I'm not certain what it's
6 called in your state, but the Tennessee attorney
7 reviewed the plan commission. I mean, in Illinois,
8 that's what it's called. So, I mean, if that's the 9 name for Tennessee. I could be wrong.

10 Q. In Illinois, it's the IRADC; is that
11 right?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. And here, we have the Tennessee Board
14 of Professional Responsibility, which we call the 15 BPR.

16 A. Sure. Okay. So, yes, I reviewed it on 17 their website.

18 Q. Do you understand that's an order of 19 the Tennessee Supreme Court?

20 A. Correct.

21 Q. And so you understand that upon the 22 order of the Tennessee Supreme Court, Mr. Manookian
23 was no longer entitled to practice law while his 24 license was suspended?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. Did you talk to Melissa Fitzgerald as a
2 friend or as an attorney about whether they were
3 going to speak with other lawyers in his absence?

4 A. You cut out horribly during that
5 question, Mr. Spragens, but I believe you asked if I
6 talked to Melissa Fitzgerald during that time period
7 in regards to whether they were going to review
8 other -- or interview other counsel. Is that what 9 you were asking?

10 Q. Yes, ma'am. Sorry about the 11 technological problem.

12 A. That's okay. All she said to me was 13 that Brian had notified -- from, again, my memory,
14 Brian had notified her of the suspension, assured
15 them that everything was going to be, you know,
16 handled just as it was, everything would be smooth
17 and be continued, and that his firm would continue on 18 until he was back able to practice law, again.

19 Q. And was it your understanding, at some 20 point, that Afsoon Hagh began representing the 21 Fitzgeralds in this case?

22 A. I don't believe I ever had that belief
23 or information, that she was the sole one
24 representing them. I knew that there was some other
25 party at the law firm, as well, even though I had

1 never talked to them. I don't think I was under the
2 assumption as to who was doing the work when I
3 Mr. Manookian wasn't there.

4 Q. The other party that you are referring
5 to is Mr. Cummings?

6 A. Correct.

7 Q. Did you come to learn, at any time,
8 whether Mr. Cummings had resigned from the law firm?

9 A. I did not.

10 Q. You understood that he was a named
11 partner in the law firm at the beginning of the 12 representation?

13 A. No. I don't believe I was ever
14 explained his relationship with the firm.

15 Q. You knew that the firm was called
16 Cummings Manookian, though?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. And in that initial representation
19 letter, it did say that Ms. Hagh would be an attorney
20 who would work on the case; is that right?

21 A. I would have to look back at the letter
22 to see specifically, names.

23 Q. Well, looking at Exhibit One to this
24 deposition, it says, All work on this matter will be
25 done by Brian Manookian, Brian Cummings or Afsoon

1 Hagh; is that right?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. You don't have any reason to believe
4 that Ms. Hagh is not qualified to practice plaintiff
5 personal injury or wrongful death law, do you?

6 A. I do not.

7 Q. And, in fact, after Mr. Manookian was
8 suspended, she sent you that PowerPoint presentation;
9 is that right?

10 A. Correct.

11 Q. Was it your understanding that she also 12 drafted the summary judgement opposition?

13 A. I don't have an understanding as to who 14 drafted it.

15 Q. Was it your understanding that she
16 drafted the PowerPoint in opposition to the summary
17 judgment?

18 A. I don't have any understanding in 19 regards to that. I do recall her telling me that 20 Brain would call me to discuss it.

21 Q. Do you have any understanding of
22 whether Ms. Hagh argued the summary judgment
23 opposition at the hearing?

24 A. I do not know.

25 Q. You didn't attend that hearing?

1 A. I did not.

2 Q. Did you ask who was going to be
3 handling this case in Mr. Manookian's absence?

4 A. Ask who?

5 Q. Anybody.

6 A. Again, the law firm, did I ask that
7 specific question; no. I mean, when I see an
8 attorney part of a named law firm, Cummings
9 Manookian, and one is suspended, I'm going to assume 10 the other party, as you just note, Brian Cummings and 11 Afsoon Hagh, would, you know, carry on. Brian always 12 assured me that everything would be handled, even in 13 his absence, just as it was as he was there.

14 Q. Do you have any view of whether the 15 Fitzgeralds received a fair outcome in their case?

16 A. I don't know.

17 Q. Do you know whether Mr. Cummings ever
18 retired from Cummings Manookian?

19 A. I have no knowledge.

20 Q. Is it your understanding that if both
21 named partners of that firm were not able to practice
22 law, that that firm could not continue as a going
23 concern?

24 MR. YOUNG: Objection, to the extent
25 that it calls for a legal conclusion for Tennessee

1 law.

2 BY MR. SPRAGENS:

3 Q. You can answer, Ms. McCarthy.

4 A. You have to re-ask your question,
5 please.

6 Q. Sure. Is it your understanding that if
7 Mr. Cummings was no longer affiliated with the firm
8 and Mr. Manookian was not entitled to practice law,
9 that that firm would no longer be a going concern?

10 A. You're asking me for an opinion, and 11 I -- it seems almost like a hypothetical. I don't
12 know either of those things to be true, so I can't 13 answer that question.

14 Q. Do you know of any law firms in 15 Illinois in which there is no partner who is able to 16 practice law?

17 A. I haven't reviewed all of the law firms
18 in Illinois.

19 Q. I know, but do you know of any that you
20 have? You're a lawyer in Illinois. Would it
21 surprise you if there was a law firm in Illinois
22 where it was owned by someone other than a lawyer?

23 A. You know what, I don't know what our
24 rule in Illinois states, as if a non-lawyer can own a
25 law firm or not.

1 Q. But you don't think that you could
2 practice law for private clients through Element
3 Cremation, do you?

4 A. I'm not exactly certain of your
5 question.

6 Q. Well, when you represent clients
7 individually, you don't represent them through 8 Element Cremation; you represent them through your 9 own practice; is that right?

10 A. Correct. It's two distinct entities.
11 I do not represent; I'm inhouse counsel. Do you
12 understand what inhouse counsel means?

13 Q. I think so.

14 A. Okay. So I'm inhouse counsel for 15 Elements Cremation. I do not represent clients in 16 Elements Cremation.

17 Q. What percentage of the clients that you
18 represent in your private practice also use Element
19 Cremation for its services?

20 A. Next to none. That's not the carryover
21 that I do.

22 Q. I think you testified that you had an 23 impression that Ms. Hagh had a limited role in the 24 case during the period before Mr. Manookian's
25 suspension; is that right?

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. And it was your understanding that she
3 had a limited role in the firm; is that right?

4 A. I don't believe I answered that. I
5 don't know what her role in the firm is.

6 Q. You said she was copied on e-mails,
7 periodically?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Did she talk to you by phone multiple
10 times after Mr. Manookian's suspension?

11 A. She did not talk to me multiple times
12 after his suspension.

13 Q. Okay. How many times did she talk to 14 you after he was suspended?

15 A. Twice.

16 Q. And what dates were those? Feel free
17 to refer to the privilege log.

18 A. And when we say talked, it could be an 19 e-mail. The 4/3/2019 e-mail from me, I guess, that's 20 from me to her. The 4/15/2019 e-mail from Hagh to 21 RLM.

22 Q. I think you testified that you talked
23 to her on the phone twice, didn't you?

24 A. She did -- yeah, she did respond to --
25 again, I don't know if it was a general voicemail. I

1 had left voicemails for Mr. Cummings, Mr. Manookian
2 in a general voice mailbox after he was suspended to
3 know the status in regards to how things were going
4 to be moving forward. Afsoon did return the call
5 saying Brian would call me. That was the extent of 6 our conversation.

7 Q. So you only talked to her on the phone
8 one time?

9 A. Yeah, I believe so, now that I'm
10 thinking about it. Excuse my error earlier.

11 Q. So it's one e-mail and one phone call,
12 and that's the extent of your communications with
13 Ms. Hagh?

14 A. From my direct communication with her,
15 correct. As you mentioned, she was copied on things,
16 periodically, not consistently.

17 Q. And just for clarity, the e-mails in 18 which she was copied, your privilege log does not
19 reflect whether she was copied on an e-mail or not;
20 is that right?

21 A. My privilege log would show if she was.
22 So, again, there's only a couple of times her name
23 even appears on here.

24 Q. Okay. So this privilege log, where it
25 says, e-mail from Manookian to RLM, or RLM to

1 Manookian, or Manookian to clients, all of that would
2 reflect whether or not she was cc'd on a
3 communication?

4 A. I don't know. I would have to look
5 back at the e-mail, now, since you are asking.

6 Q. I mean, I just -- frankly, I don't see
7 anything where you indicate somebody being cc'd on a
8 communication, so that's why I'm asking.

9 A. No. I mean, if it was, like the
10 10/2/2018 e-mail from Manookian to Marty and myself,
11 it would note. Yeah, cc'd. You're correct. I don't
12 know that, either.

13 Q. All right. So she may have been cc'd
14 on any number of these e-mails in the privilege log?

15 A. Again, I don't know. I would have to 16 look back at the e-mails.

17 Q. Okay. I'm just getting you to agree
18 with me that we can't tell from looking at the 19 privilege log whether or not she was cc'd on an 20 e-mail; is that fair?

21 A. You cannot tell in regards to if there
22 was anyone copied on it or not.

23 Q. And that would include Ms. Hagh?

24 A. Possibly.

25 Q. Is that a yes to that question?

1 A. Sure, yes. I mean, whoever was copied,
2 no, you cannot tell. But I can tell you, from my
3 review of the e-mail for this matter prior to doing
4 this privilege log, I have not looked at them after,
5 it was very sporadic that she was on any e-mails. It
6 was merely as a copy. There was never engagement
7 with her, except for the couple of times noted.

8 Q. And I appreciate that you're
9 distinguishing between -- you've got the to and the 10 from on the privilege, just not necessarily the cc,
11 and I get that, and I don't have any dispute with you
12 there. Did you maintain contemporaneous time records
13 of your work on the Fitzgerald case?

14 A. What kind of contemporaneous time
15 records are you --

16 Q. I'm referring to where you --

17 A. Like a time log?

18 Q. Yeah, your time entries or how much
19 time you spent on the case, as it went along.

20 A. No. There is no need to do so, as the 21 referring. I do not keep my time, in regards to 22 matters that I refer.

23 Q. Well, you understand that the rules
24 require you to be paid in proportion for your 25 services or in some other arrangement as the client

1 may approve?

2 A. I do, and that's in regards to
3 Tennessee law.

4 Q. And this case was pending in Tennessee?

5 A. Yes. So in regards to the substantive
6 issues or anything, yes, there would be -- you know,
7 I could tell you the time, but e-mails, no. I don't
8 keep the e-mails and the telephone conversations as 9 time for them.

10 Q. So if I understand, the privilege log
11 reflects some communications, but that privilege log
12 was generated in response to the subpoena in this 13 bankruptcy case?

14 A. Correct, yes.

15 Q. Other than that privilege log, you did
16 not maintain contemporaneous logs of your work on the 17 case?

18 A. I have a file that has my work in it in 19 regards to this case.

20 Q. What's in that file?

21 A. Just printouts of the e-mails, summary
22 judgment motion, some research that Brian and I had 23 talked about that I was looking into, in regards to,
24 potentially, bringing in a possible claim against
25 business insurance providers.

1 Q. And that's the hard copy?

2 A. Pardon?

3 Q. I'm sorry.

4 A. You cut out, again. And I don't know

5 if there is someone else with you in the room, but I

6 keep hearing another voice, Mr. Spragens.

7 Q. There is no one else in the room with

8 me, and I hear the same feedback that you do, so I'm

9 not sure where it's coming from. But that's

10 maintained in hard copy?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. In that file, just for clarity, there

13 is not, like, a log where you say, on this date, I

14 spent this amount of time on this case?

15 A. I have not reviewed that file, and it's

16 no longer, like, in my current possession. It's

17 packed away. So to say what's specifically in it, I

18 cannot. I know how I typically keep my notes, but I

19 can't tell you what specifically -- how they were,

20 you know, kept there.

21 Q. Okay. Well, we'll do this the hard

22 way. I'm just trying to find out, do you maintain

23 regular records of your time spent on work, or do you

24 not?

25 A. I do. I keep -- but it's more -- it's

1 like a running list, a time. So, for example, 11:24
2 a.m., and then, at the conclusion of a telephone
3 conference or me working on something, there will be
4 an end time, so, for example, 12 noon, making it up,
5 if I was doing something between now and 12 noon.

6 Q. So does that mean that you do have
7 contemporaneous time records of your work on the 8 Fitzgerald matter?

9 A. Yes. If you want to call my note
10 entries on paper, yes, that would be, I guess,
11 contemporaneous time. When I think of
12 contemporaneous time notes, I'm thinking of when I
13 worked in a law firm on litigation matters, and we 14 actually had a time system where you would put in 15 your time spent on a matter.

16 Q. Sure. I understand. So while you
17 don't have a fancy billing software, for example, you
18 do jot down your notes of the time you spent on these 19 cases?

20 A. I do.

21 Q. And you expect that that would be in a
22 file, which I believe you said was in storage, now?

23 A. Correct.

24 Q. Is that external storage or in your
25 house or in your office somewhere?

1 A. External.

2 Q. Would you have the ability to get that,
3 if it's needed?

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. And have you done so in connection with 6 this bankruptcy or this subpoena that Mr. Young sent
7 you?

8 A. No.

9 Q. When was the first time you spoke to 10 Mr. Young?

11 A. I would have absolutely no idea, in 12 regards to that. Whenever -- the first time I spoke
13 to Mr. Young. You know, it wasn't me; my counsel
14 spoke to Mr. Young. So a few months back, I guess.
15 I don't know. I would have to have something to 16 refresh my memory to tell me the date when 17 communication occurred between Mr. Young and either
18 my counsel or myself.

19 Q. And that was your counsel in connection
20 with the Cummings Manookian bankruptcy?

21 A. Correct, yes.

22 Q. Did you or your counsel speak to
23 Mr. Young when he -- during the time period before
24 the bankruptcy, when he had been appointed receiver
25 in a state court action in Tennessee?

1 A. I would have no idea of the answer to
2 that question without looking at a timeline,
3 Mr. Spragens. And I -- I don't know which matter
4 you're, you know, referring to there, either.

5 Q. So as far as you're aware, the first
6 contact that you or anybody on your behalf had with
7 Mr. Young was your attorney in this bankruptcy
8 talking to Mr. Young as Trustee for -- or counsel for 9 the Trustee in this bankruptcy?

10 A. Again, I don't know, Mr. Spragens. I
11 would have to look back at the dates to see when it 12 was.

13 Q. And what would we look at to find that 14 out?

15 A. I guess, an e-mail between myself and 16 when I hired representation in regards to the 17 bankruptcy matter.

18 Q. So I guess what I'm trying to find out
19 is, did you ever speak to Mr. Young before the 20 bankruptcy was initiated?

21 A. You kind of positioned that in regards
22 to some other matter, as well. So are you just 23 asking in regards to the bankruptcy matter, or -- I'm 24 a little unclear.

25 Q. My question is whether you spoke to

1 Mr. Young before the bankruptcy matter was opened.

2 A. Again, I don't know. I would have to
3 look back and see when my counsel initiated
4 conversation.

5 Q. Did you retain counsel before the 6 Cummings Manookian bankruptcy?

7 A. I retained counsel in regards to the 8 bankruptcy.

9 Q. Okay. So prior to learning about the
10 Cummings Manookian bankruptcy, you had not retained a
11 lawyer to deal with your fee in this matter?

12 A. No.

13 Q. And prior to learning about the 14 Cummings Manookian bankruptcy, your lawyer wouldn't
15 have had any contact with Mr. Young?

16 A. I guess you can draw that conclusion.

17 Q. You agree that that's correct?

18 A. There wouldn't be a need for my counsel
19 to have communication. I hired counsel in regards to 20 the bankruptcy matter and filing a claim.

21 Q. And then my only other question about
22 this is, prior to the bankruptcy matter, you didn't
23 have any communications with Mr. Young?

24 A. No.

25 Q. And what about any communications with

1 Jeanne Burton, who is the Trustee in this matter?
2 Have you had any?

3 A. No.

4 Q. When was the last time you spoke to
5 Mr. Young before today's deposition?

6 A. Again, I would have to look back at 7 dates, but it was in regards to my deposition not
8 going, the first -- for the first schedule. So
9 whatever that date was.

10 Q. Have you and Mr. Young had any 11 conversation where you discussed the substance of the 12 questions that he would ask you during today's 13 deposition?

14 A. No.

15 Q. And about how many times have you
16 directly talked to Mr. Young before today's
17 deposition?

18 A. Maybe three. It was in regards to the 19 scheduling of it, when I would be available, the 20 scope, which is exactly the scope on the notice of 21 the deposition, and how long he anticipated, which 22 we're about half an hour over what he anticipated the 23 deposition to run.

24 Q. Did you understand that after
25 Mr. Manookian was suspended from the practice of law,

1 he had an obligation to keep you informed about
2 matters relating to the transfer of his file to
3 another attorney?

4 A. You cut out at the very beginning, so I
5 didn't hear what you asked.

6 Q. Did you understand whether
7 Mr. Manookian, when he was suspended from the 8 practice of law, had an obligation to keep you
9 informed about matters relating to the transfer of 10 his client file to another attorney?

11 A. Did I understand that he had a duty to 12 me to let me know if the file was transferred to 13 another attorney; is that what you're asking me?

14 Q. No. Did you understand whether, due to 15 his duty to his former client, he had an obligation
16 to apprise future attorneys about matters relating to 17 the representation?

18 A. Your question is confusing me. Maybe
19 you could break it apart.

20 Q. Sure. When an attorney is suspended
21 from the practice of law, do you have any
22 understanding about whether they're expected to, as a
23 part of the hand-off of their client file to other 24 attorneys, who are continuing to represent the 25 client, if they have any obligation to communicate

1 with those other attorneys about the representation,
2 notwithstanding the fact that they have been
3 suspended from the practice of law?

4 A. If you're asking to referring
5 attorneys, yes, I believe he had a duty to let
6 referring attorneys know. If you're talking
7 generally, to the world of attorneys, I don't know
8 what his responsibility is to tell other attorneys.

9 Q. And I also mean to the client's next
10 attorney. After Mr. Manookian hands off that file to 11 somebody else, he has a duty to continue
12 communicating with respect to the hand-off of the 13 client file; do you agree with that?

14 A. Mr. Spragens, I am sorry. I don't know
15 if it's my end or yours, but you broke up horribly,
16 again, at the beginning of that question.

17 Q. Sure. And I'm sorry about that. My
18 question is, do you have any understanding about 19 whether an attorney, who is suspended from the 20 practice of law, is required to communicate on behalf
21 of his client with that client's next attorney as 22 part of the transition process of that file going
23 from the suspended attorney to the ongoing
24 representation?

25 A. I have absolutely no idea.

1 Mr. Manookian was the first counsel I have ever come
2 in contact with before that has been suspended.

3 Q. And that's -- let me ask you this. Do
4 you know whether Mr. Manookian consulted with the 5 Tennessee Board of Professional Responsibility about
6 his obligations in handing off the client file upon
7 his suspension and what he was required to do going
8 forward to ensure that the client was represented?

9 A. I have no idea what his conversations
10 were with your Tennessee Board of Professional
11 Responsibility.

12 Q. Okay. Well, I appreciate your time
13 today, Ms. McCarthy. I don't have anything further,
14 at this time.

15 A. Thank you.

16 MR. GABBERT: No questions from Craig
17 Gabbert.

18 MR. YOUNG: Ms. McCarthy, I have no
19 further questions. Thank you for your time, today.

20 WITNESS: Thank you.

STATE OF TENNESSEE)
COUNTY OF DAVIDSON)

Jeanne Ann Burton, Trustee, being duly sworn, states as follows:

1. I am over eighteen years of age and have personal knowledge of the matters set forth herein.
2. I am the plaintiff in the above-referenced matter and currently serving as the Chapter 7 trustee for the bankruptcy estate of Cummings Manookian, PLC.
3. In order to appropriately respond to Defendants Afsoon Hagh, Hagh Law, PLLC, and Manookian PLLC's Joint Motion for Summary Judgment and Memorandum in Support Thereof (Doc. 188) (the "Motion"), it is necessary for me to depose Marty Fitzgerald.

4. More specifically, this deposition is necessary for me to discover whether Mr. Fitzgerald was informed by any of the Defendants (in writing or orally) that Cummings Manookian, PLC intended to withdraw from representing him and his wife in a wrongful death suit, whether any of the Defendants instructed him to hire new counsel, whether he in fact interviewed new counsel, and what (if anything) he was told about the future involvement of Cummings Manookian, PLC, Afsoon Hagh, Hagh Law, PLLC and/or Manookian PLC in his lawsuit. These facts are potentially relevant in responding to portions of the Motion. Moreover, this deposition is necessary in order for me to respond to Paragraph 27 of the Defendants' Joint Statement of Undisputed Material Facts.
5. I took every reasonable step possible to take Mr. Fitzgerald's deposition prior to the July 29, 2022 deadline for filing motions for summary judgment and before the August 12, 2022 deadline for filing responses thereto. On May 5, 2022, my counsel issued a subpoena for Mr. Fitzgerald's testimony on May 27, 2022 at my request. No timely objection was filed to that first subpoena. The week before that deposition was to occur, counsel for the Defendants asked me to reschedule all third-party depositions, including Mr. Fitzgerald's, because Brian Manookian and Afsoon Hagh were scheduled to be out of state. As an accommodation, I agreed to reschedule the depositions so long as other pretrial deadlines were likewise rescheduled. The Defendants agreed.
6. I then directed my counsel to issue another subpoena for Mr. Fitzgerald's testimony, which was served on Mr. Fitzgerald on June 7, 2022. That subpoena required Mr. Fitzgerald's appearance at a rescheduled deposition via Zoom on June 24, 2022. On June 21, 2022, Attorney John Spragens sent an email to my counsel objecting to the subpoena on behalf of Mr. Fitzgerald.

7. On July 22, 2022, I filed a motion to compel Mr. Fitzgerald's compliance with the subpoena. The Court has not set a hearing to consider the motion to compel.

FURTHER AFFIANT SAITH NOT.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on August 11, 2022.

MEMORANDUM and ORDER

Before the Court is the Notice of Appeal filed by defendants/appellants Brian Manookian and Manookian PLLC. (Adv. Pro. No. 185; Doc. No. 1.)¹ The appellants have filed a Statement of Issues, supporting Brief, and the record pertaining to their appeal. (Doc. Nos. 4, 5, 5-1.) The plaintiff/appellee, Trustee Jeanne Ann Burton, has filed a responding Brief (Doc. No. 6), and the appellants filed a Reply (Doc. No. 7). The court finds that a hearing on this matter is unnecessary and, therefore, DENIES the appellants' request for oral argument. For the reasons that follow, defendants/appellants' Notice of Appeal, which the court construes as a motion for leave to appeal, is DENIED.

I. BACKGROUND

On November 6, 2019, Cummings Manookian, PLC² filed a Chapter 7 Voluntary Petition in the Bankruptcy Court, which was assigned to Bankruptcy Court Judge Charles M. Walker. (Bankr. No. 1.) Trustee Jeanne Ann Burton was appointed to serve as the Chapter 7 Trustee for the debtor on the same day and continues to serve in that capacity.

On January 8, 2020, the Trustee filed the Adversary Proceeding against Hagh Law PLLC (“Hagh Law”), Afsoon Hagh, Manookian PLLC (“Manookian Law”), and First-Citizens Bank and Trust Company (the “Bank”), asserting claims for conversion, fraudulent transfer, tortious interference with contract, successor liability/alter ego, and turnover, and seeking a declaratory judgment, injunctive relief, and other related relief. (Adv. Pro. No. 1, at 1.)³ What followed was a contentious eighteen months or so of discovery, culminating in a hearing on March 17, 2022 (“March 17 hearing”) before Judge Walker, for the purpose of resolving a number of outstanding discovery disputes.

The court and the parties were able to resolve several matters during the first half of the March 17 hearing. (See generally Mar. 17, 2022 Hr’g Tr., Adv. Pro. No. 140.) The court then adjourned for several hours while the parties continued to work toward further resolution on their own. When court reconvened on the afternoon of March 17, the parties reported to the judge the progress they had made and areas in which they had reached an impasse. One of the remaining areas of conflict was where to conduct four depositions the parties agreed should be taken. (Adv.

Pro. No. 140, at 81–82.) The Trustee had suggested that the depositions take place in the courthouse, a proposal Judge Walker immediately approved. Counsel for Brian Manookian and Manookian Law registered his objection, and the court observed that, while the parties still had the ability to agree on a location, in the absence of an agreement, they would have to hold a hearing. (Id. at 82.) Counsel for the appellants continued to express the reasons why he believed that holding the depositions at the courthouse would be inconvenient for all concerned. He noted in particular that parking at the courthouse was expensive and that he did not understand the basis for departing from the ordinary course of holding depositions at lawyers’ offices. The court then asked counsel for the Trustee to articulate a basis for conducting the depositions at the courthouse. Counsel for the Trustee stated several reasons why he believed the depositions should be taken at the courthouse, including his belief that there was, as he explained it, “a security issue here. There’s already been a restraining order put down against Mr. Manookian by one of the creditor’s lawyers in this case, and I don’t take that lightly on behalf of my client.” (Id. at 83.)

Counsel for the appellants again posited that his office was “just down the street” and offered free parking, and he objected to the suggestion of a security issue “in this ordinary bankruptcy case involving professional lawyers on all sides.” (Id. at 84.) At this point, the court asked counsel for the Trustee if he was “uncomfortable doing depositions” in the appellants’ counsel’s office. (Id.) Counsel for the Trustee stated that he was. The court then made the following statement:

All right. And then I’ll just address the 100-pound gorilla in the room on that issue.

To be candid, Mr. Spragens, I mean, your client’s past behavior before the tribunals, and I’ve had at least two lawyers call the Court and say they don’t feel comfortable if your client is going to appear, and, you know, the Court takes those concerns very seriously and makes no conclusion on whether they are valid, they are perceptions which drive behaviors of other parties. And to eliminate any of those perceptions, and to protect everyone against any allegations of bad behavior, misbehavior, or perceived misbehavior, it makes sense to do them here in an environment where no one can get your client further down a rabbit hole of he did this or he did that, that we're in a neutral environment, which affords certain protections. And if nothing else, in terms of everybody's on their best behavior.

And so the Court's going to make that determination, that the depositions, unless the parties can agree, will be held here in the courthouse.

(Id. at 84–85.) No further discussion on this topic ensued, and counsel did not object contemporaneously to the court's statement regarding his "client's past behavior" or the two phone calls to the court by unidentified lawyers.

However, on May 5, 2022, Brian Manookian and Manookian Law, through counsel, filed their Motion to Disqualify Bankruptcy Judge Charles Walker, on the basis that the judge had "engaged in multiple prohibited ex parte communications about Brian Manookian and this proceeding . . . while this action has been pending." (Adv. Pro. No. 161, at 1–2.) In addition to the "communications with at least two [unidentified] lawyers" referenced by the judge at the March 17 hearing, the appellants represented that they had learned during the deposition of Phillip Young⁴ that the Trustee, "through her Special Counsel, has had at least one improper ex parte communication with the Court about Mr. Manookian." (Id. at 1–2 n.2 (citing Adv. Pro. No. 161-2, Young Dep. 43–45).)⁵ The Bankruptcy Court scheduled a hearing on the Motion to Disqualify

[T]he very, very first hearing in this case, I called [Judge Walker's] courtroom deputy to alert her to the fact that a creditor's lawyer had an order of protection [against Brian Manookian]. And I didn't know how that was going to work logistically when you have a lawyer who's representing a creditor in the bankruptcy and the debtor's representatives and there was an order of protection down. And so I called to alert them to that so they would know how to handle that. But I don't know if anybody else called.

(Adv. Pro. No. 161-2, Young Dep. 44.) Specifically, he did not know if the lawyer who had obtained the order of protection had also called chambers. (Id.)

for June 29, 2022.⁶ Counsel for Hagh Law and Afsoon Hagh filed a Response expressing their support for the Motion to Disqualify. (Adv. Pro. No. 173, at 1, 2.) The Trustee filed a Response opposing the motion and pointing out that counsel for the Trustee testified that he had had a brief conversation with the judge's courtroom deputy—not with the judge himself—and that the conversation involved a procedural question rather than substantive issues. (Adv. Pro. No. 174, at 2.) The Trustee also argued that the judge's comments at the March 17 hearing and the decision to hold depositions at the courthouse did not reflect bias but instead a desire to have the depositions conducted at the courthouse in order “to avoid any allegations of bad behavior, whether real or perceived.” (Id. at 4.) The Trustee also objected to the appellants' characterization of the legal standards purportedly supporting disqualification.

On May 31, 2022, defendant/appellant Manookian Law noticed the deposition of Judge Walker, for the purpose of addressing “(1) Judge Walker and his staff's communications about this matter with third parties outside of court proceedings and (2) Judge Walker and his staff's investigation into this matter, the parties, or witnesses outside of the Court record.” (Adv. Pro. No. 177.) Judge Walker entered an eight-page Order the next day, quashing the Notice of Deposition. (Adv. Pro. No. 178.) Manookian Law and Brian Manookian filed their Notice of Appeal and Statement of Election on June 14, 2022, specifically giving notice of their appeal to this court “from the Bankruptcy Court's June 1, 2022 Order (Doc. 178),” that is, from the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition.

At the hearing on the Motion to Disqualify, which convened as planned on June 29, 2022, Judge Walker read a statement into the record. In this statement, he expressed his conclusion that, in light of the appeal of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition, the court was divested of jurisdiction over certain aspects of the case, specifically including both the Motion to Disqualify and the appellants' Motion for Summary Judgment, filed ten days after their Notice of Appeal. (Adv. Pro. No. 212, at 4; see also Adv. Pro. No. 188 (Motion for Summary Judgment).)

⁶ The docket reflects that the parties, throughout this time period, continued to engage in discovery disputes.

The appeal of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition is now before the court.

II. LEGAL STANDARD

Under 28 U.S.C. § 158, a district court has jurisdiction to hear a timely appeal as a matter of right from final orders or decrees issued by a bankruptcy court and, “with leave of court,” from interlocutory orders. 28 U.S.C. § 158(a)(1), (a)(3). Rule 8004(a) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure provides that, to appeal from an interlocutory order, a party should file a motion for leave to appeal with its notice of appeal. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 8004(a)(2). At the same time, however, Rule 8004(d) allows the district court to treat a timely notice of appeal as a motion for leave to appeal.

Rule 8004(b) identifies the required elements of a motion for leave to appeal, including (1) “the facts necessary to understand the question presented”; (2) “the question itself”; (3) “the relief sought”; (4) “the reasons why leave to appeal should be granted”; and (5) “a copy of the interlocutory order.” With respect to the fourth element, neither Rule 8004 nor 28 U.S.C. § 158(a) states what factors a district court should consider in deciding whether to grant a motion for leave to appeal. District courts within the Sixth Circuit have adopted the standard set forth in 28 U.S.C. § 1292(b), which deals with interlocutory appeals from district courts to courts of appeal. In re Energy Conversion Devices, Inc., 638 B.R. 81, 88 (E.D. Mich. 2022) (citations omitted). Thus, a district court may permit an interlocutory appeal if (1) the order involves a controlling question of law; (2) a substantial ground for difference of opinion exists regarding the correctness of the decision; and (3) an immediate appeal may materially advance the ultimate termination of the litigation. Id. (citations omitted). “It is well-established that all three statutory requirements must be met for the court to certify an appeal under § 1292(b).” Id. (quoting Lang v. Crocker Park LLC, No. 1:09 CV 1412, 2011 WL 3297865, at *5 (N.D. Ohio July 29, 2011)). Even when all three criteria are met, “district courts have ‘unfettered discretion to deny certification’ in light of the strong bias in federal practice against interlocutory appeals.” In re Great Atl. & Pac. Tea Co., 615 B.R. 717, 722 (S.D.N.Y. 2020) (citation omitted). Further, it is well established that permitting interlocutory appeals is “the exception, rather than the rule.” Energy Conversion Devices, 638 B.R. at 89 (citing In re Doria, No. 09-75261, 2010 WL 2870813, at *2 (E.D. Mich. July 21, 2010)).

III. ANALYSIS

A. The Order Quashing Subpoena Is Not a “Final Order”

In their opening Brief, the appellants contend that the court has jurisdiction over this appeal as a matter of right, under 28 U.S.C. § 158(a), because the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition is a final, appealable order. (Doc. No. 5, at 3.) Alternatively, they ask the court to consider their timely Notice of Appeal as a motion for leave to file an interlocutory appeal. (Id.)

“Orders in bankruptcy cases qualify as ‘final’ when they definitively dispose of discrete disputes within the overarching bankruptcy case.” Ritzen Grp., Inc. v. Jackson Masonry, LLC, 140 S. Ct. 582, 586 (2020) (citing Bullard v. Blue Hills Bank, 575 U.S. 496, 501 (2015)). Thus, for example, “the adjudication of a motion for relief from the automatic stay forms a discrete procedural unit within the embrative bankruptcy case. That unit yields a final, appealable order when the bankruptcy court unreservedly grants or denies relief.” Id. Likewise, orders “denying an application for an administrative expense,” “sustaining an objection to a creditor’s claim,” or “denying a motion under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 60(b)” all qualify as “final orders” that are appealable as of right. In re Murray Energy Holdings Co., 640 B.R. 558, 560–61 (B.A.P. 6th Cir. 2022). Courts distinguish between “discrete disputes” and “discrete issues,” with only the former being subject to immediate appeal. In re Comdisco, Inc., 538 F.3d 647, 651–52 (7th Cir. 2008). “A discrete dispute is one that is essentially separable from the larger case,” while “a decision or order that resolves only an issue that arises during the administration of a bankruptcy estate is too small a litigation unit to justify treatment as a final judgment.” Id.; see also In re Jackson Masonry, LLC, 906 F.3d 494, 500 (6th Cir. 2018) (identifying the “appropriate ‘judicial unit’ for finality analysis” as a “discrete ‘proceeding’” (citations omitted)), aff’d sub nom. Ritzen Grp., Inc. v. Jackson Masonry, LLC, 140 S. Ct. 582 (2020).

The order appealed from in this case is an order quashing a deposition that was sought for the purpose of obtaining evidence in support of the appellants’ Motion to Disqualify Judge Walker. Irrespective of the appellants’ attempts to cast it as a final order, the bankruptcy judge stayed the case pending this appeal, finding that he was divested of jurisdiction over the Motion to Disqualify and the appellants’ Motion for Summary Judgment as a result of their appeal of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition. The appellants, thus, are not in a position to appeal the disposition of the Motion to Disqualify or the Motion for Summary Judgment, because those motions are still pending. While the Motion to Disqualify might arguably constitute a discrete dispute, the resolution of which would qualify as a final order (an issue the court does not reach here), the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition is clearly not. It is an issue arising in the context of resolving the Motion to Disqualify. The court finds, therefore, that the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition is an interlocutory order, not a final order as contemplated by 28 U.S.C. § 158(a).

B. Whether to Grant Leave to Appeal

As set forth above, the court may permit an interlocutory appeal if (1) the order in question involves a controlling question of law; (2) a substantial ground for difference of opinion exists regarding the correctness of the decision; and (3) an immediate appeal may materially advance the ultimate termination of the litigation. Energy Conversion Devices, 638 B.R. at 88.

The appellants' argument in support of an interlocutory appeal glosses over the nature of the order they seek to appeal. Thus, for instance, they argue that their appeal "involves a controlling question of law, because the "[d]isqualification of a judge . . . is governed by statute," which creates an objective standard. (Doc. No. 5, at 9.) They argue that the bankruptcy judge "refused to apply the objective standard or otherwise disclose its ex parte communications about Appellant Manookian," instead scheduling an evidentiary hearing requiring the appellants to put on evidence in support of their Motion to Disqualify—evidence that, they claim, is "exclusively in the Court's possession." (Id. at 10.) The court quashed the Notice of Deposition, thereby allegedly depriving the appellants of the only means by which they could obtain the evidence of the judge's ex parte communications needed to support their Motion to Disqualify.

The appellants are wrong, of course: they possess evidence (such as it is) in the form of the judge's comments during the March 17 hearing and Phillip Young's deposition testimony—the evidence upon which their motion was premised in the first place. Moreover, because they took an appeal prior to the evidentiary hearing and before the judge ruled on their Motion to Disqualify, they have no idea how the judge might have ruled on that motion. More to the point, the appellants have not discussed the law that actually controls the issue they seek leave to appeal: the law establishing the standards for either setting or quashing the deposition of a presiding judge.

Instead, they argue that this court's guidance on the "appropriate standard for recusal and the correct process for considering disqualification requests relating to ex parte communications and extrajudicially developed bias will aid the parties and the Bankruptcy Court." (Id.) They posit that, "[i]f the Bankruptcy Court's Order is vacated and the case returned with instructions that it be transferred to another judge," that new judge "can promptly address remaining discovery and dispositive motions." (Id.) Again, however, the disqualification of the judge is not the question on appeal. The Motion to Disqualify is still pending before the bankruptcy judge, albeit stayed pending resolution of this appeal of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition. The appellants have not referenced or even alluded to the standard the judge applied in quashing the Notice setting his own deposition, much less shown that he applied the wrong standard or that a substantial ground for difference of opinion exists regarding the correctness of the decision.

Regarding the third factor, the appellants argue that denying leave for an interlocutory appeal would result in “wasted litigation and expense,” as it would require them to go back before the Bankruptcy Court for an evidentiary hearing “in which Appellants lack key evidence.” (Id. at 11.) Then, if the Bankruptcy Court denied their disqualification motion, “Appellants would seek review of the denial for the same reasons they now seek review of the Bankruptcy Court’s handling of the disqualification motion.” (Id.) The appellants, again, place the cart before the horse. Judge Walker has not yet “handled” the disqualification motion, and the appellants do not know how he would have ruled on it if they had not sought an interlocutory appeal of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition. They have engaged in wasteful litigation and incurred unnecessary expense in seeking to appeal the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition rather than waiting to see how the judge ruled on their Motion to Disqualify and whether they actually had substantial grounds at that point for seeking to appeal that ruling.

In sum, the appellants have not made the requisite showing on even one of the three required factors. Moreover, even if the court were inclined to grant leave to pursue an interlocutory appeal, the only issue appealed is the appropriateness of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition. That eight-page Order encompasses six pages of detailed consideration of the regulations governing requests to take the deposition of a judicial officer, set forth in Volume 20, Chapter 8

of the Guide to Judiciary Policy, promulgated by the Director of the Administrative Office of United States Courts.⁷ (See Adv. Pro. No. 178, at 2–7.)

Generally, “[o]rders quashing a subpoena and limiting discovery are reviewed for an abuse of discretion.” In re Milholland, No. AP 14-01589, 2017 WL 895752, at *4 (B.A.P. 10th Cir. Mar. 7, 2017) (citations omitted); accord Jordan v. Comm’r, Miss. Dep’t of Corr., 947 F.3d 1322, 1326 (11th Cir. 2020); In re Grand Jury Proceedings, 744 F.3d 211, 220–21 (1st Cir. 2014); Pointer v. DART, 417 F.3d 819, 821 (8th Cir. 2005); Wiwa v. Royal Dutch Petroleum Co., 392 F.3d 812, 818 (5th Cir. 2004). Moreover, although authority is somewhat limited, courts considering the issue appear to have universally held that, if a presiding judge can be subpoenaed to testify at all “concerning actions taken in his judicial capacity,” it is “[o]nly under extraordinary circumstances.” In re Thompson, 77 B.R. 113, 114 (N.D. Ohio 1987); see also Kananian v. Brayton Purcell, LLP, No. 1:07 CV 3188, 2009 WL 10689208, at *8 (N.D. Ohio May 29, 2009) (noting that those cases finding that a subpoena to compel a judge’s deposition “may proceed in extreme and extraordinary circumstances, in fact never find that such circumstances exist” (collecting cases)). The appellants have not argued that extraordinary circumstances warrant compelling Judge Walker to appear for a deposition and, further, have provided no basis for finding that Judge Walker abused his discretion in issuing the Order Quashing the Notice of Deposition directed to him personally.

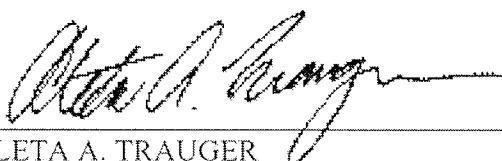

Thus, even if the appellants had shown that an interlocutory appeal was warranted, they have not provided a basis for setting aside the Order they seek to appeal.

IV. CONCLUSION AND ORDER

The court finds that the Order the appellants seek to appeal is not a “final order” that the appellants have an automatic right to appeal. The court, therefore, construes the Notice of Appeal as incorporating a motion for leave to appeal an interlocutory order. That motion is DENIED, for the reasons set forth herein.

It is so ORDERED.

MEMORANDUM and ORDER

Before the Court is the Notice of Appeal filed by defendants/appellants Brian Manookian and Manookian PLLC. (Adv. Pro. No. 185; Doc. No. 1.)¹ The appellants have filed a Statement of Issues, supporting Brief, and the record pertaining to their appeal. (Doc. Nos. 4, 5, 5-1.) The plaintiff/appellee, Trustee Jeanne Ann Burton, has filed a responding Brief (Doc. No. 6), and the appellants filed a Reply (Doc. No. 7). The court finds that a hearing on this matter is unnecessary and, therefore, DENIES the appellants' request for oral argument. For the reasons that follow, defendants/appellants' Notice of Appeal, which the court construes as a motion for leave to appeal, is DENIED.

I. BACKGROUND

On November 6, 2019, Cummings Manookian, PLC² filed a Chapter 7 Voluntary Petition in the Bankruptcy Court, which was assigned to Bankruptcy Court Judge Charles M. Walker. (Bankr. No. 1.) Trustee Jeanne Ann Burton was appointed to serve as the Chapter 7 Trustee for the debtor on the same day and continues to serve in that capacity.

On January 8, 2020, the Trustee filed the Adversary Proceeding against Hagh Law PLLC (“Hagh Law”), Afsoon Hagh, Manookian PLLC (“Manookian Law”), and First-Citizens Bank and Trust Company (the “Bank”), asserting claims for conversion, fraudulent transfer, tortious interference with contract, successor liability/alter ego, and turnover, and seeking a declaratory judgment, injunctive relief, and other related relief. (Adv. Pro. No. 1, at 1.)³ What followed was a contentious eighteen months or so of discovery, culminating in a hearing on March 17, 2022 (“March 17 hearing”) before Judge Walker, for the purpose of resolving a number of outstanding discovery disputes.

The court and the parties were able to resolve several matters during the first half of the March 17 hearing. (See generally Mar. 17, 2022 Hr’g Tr., Adv. Pro. No. 140.) The court then adjourned for several hours while the parties continued to work toward further resolution on their own. When court reconvened on the afternoon of March 17, the parties reported to the judge the progress they had made and areas in which they had reached an impasse. One of the remaining areas of conflict was where to conduct four depositions the parties agreed should be taken. (Adv.

³ After the Bank turned over $715,000 (representing disputed fees in a case in which the debtor had represented one of the parties) being held by the Bank to the Clerk of Court, pursuant to the Bankruptcy Court’s Order, the Trustee dismissed the Complaint as to the Bank on January 28, 2020.

Pro. No. 140, at 81–82.) The Trustee had suggested that the depositions take place in the courthouse, a proposal Judge Walker immediately approved. Counsel for Brian Manookian and Manookian Law registered his objection, and the court observed that, while the parties still had the ability to agree on a location, in the absence of an agreement, they would have to hold a hearing. (Id. at 82.) Counsel for the appellants continued to express the reasons why he believed that holding the depositions at the courthouse would be inconvenient for all concerned. He noted in particular that parking at the courthouse was expensive and that he did not understand the basis for departing from the ordinary course of holding depositions at lawyers’ offices. The court then asked counsel for the Trustee to articulate a basis for conducting the depositions at the courthouse. Counsel for the Trustee stated several reasons why he believed the depositions should be taken at the courthouse, including his belief that there was, as he explained it, “a security issue here. There’s already been a restraining order put down against Mr. Manookian by one of the creditor’s lawyers in this case, and I don’t take that lightly on behalf of my client.” (Id. at 83.)

Counsel for the appellants again posited that his office was “just down the street” and offered free parking, and he objected to the suggestion of a security issue “in this ordinary bankruptcy case involving professional lawyers on all sides.” (Id. at 84.) At this point, the court asked counsel for the Trustee if he was “uncomfortable doing depositions” in the appellants’ counsel’s office. (Id.) Counsel for the Trustee stated that he was. The court then made the following statement:

All right. And then I’ll just address the 100-pound gorilla in the room on that issue.

To be candid, Mr. Spragens, I mean, your client’s past behavior before the tribunals, and I’ve had at least two lawyers call the Court and say they don’t feel comfortable if your client is going to appear, and, you know, the Court takes those concerns very seriously and makes no conclusion on whether they are valid, they are perceptions which drive behaviors of other parties. And to eliminate any of those perceptions, and to protect everyone against any allegations of bad behavior, misbehavior, or perceived misbehavior, it makes sense to do them here in an environment where no one can get your client further down a rabbit hole of he did this or he did that, that we're in a neutral environment, which affords certain protections. And if nothing else, in terms of everybody's on their best behavior.

And so the Court's going to make that determination, that the depositions, unless the parties can agree, will be held here in the courthouse.

(Id. at 84–85.) No further discussion on this topic ensued, and counsel did not object contemporaneously to the court's statement regarding his "client's past behavior" or the two phone calls to the court by unidentified lawyers.

However, on May 5, 2022, Brian Manookian and Manookian Law, through counsel, filed their Motion to Disqualify Bankruptcy Judge Charles Walker, on the basis that the judge had "engaged in multiple prohibited ex parte communications about Brian Manookian and this proceeding . . . while this action has been pending." (Adv. Pro. No. 161, at 1–2.) In addition to the "communications with at least two [unidentified] lawyers" referenced by the judge at the March 17 hearing, the appellants represented that they had learned during the deposition of Phillip Young⁴ that the Trustee, "through her Special Counsel, has had at least one improper ex parte communication with the Court about Mr. Manookian." (Id. at 1–2 n.2 (citing Adv. Pro. No. 161-2, Young Dep. 43–45).)⁵ The Bankruptcy Court scheduled a hearing on the Motion to Disqualify

[T]he very, very first hearing in this case, I called [Judge Walker's] courtroom deputy to alert her to the fact that a creditor's lawyer had an order of protection [against Brian Manookian]. And I didn't know how that was going to work logistically when you have a lawyer who's representing a creditor in the bankruptcy and the debtor's representatives and there was an order of protection down. And so I called to alert them to that so they would know how to handle that. But I don't know if anybody else called.

(Adv. Pro. No. 161-2, Young Dep. 44.) Specifically, he did not know if the lawyer who had obtained the order of protection had also called chambers. (Id.)

for June 29, 2022.⁶ Counsel for Hagh Law and Afsoon Hagh filed a Response expressing their support for the Motion to Disqualify. (Adv. Pro. No. 173, at 1, 2.) The Trustee filed a Response opposing the motion and pointing out that counsel for the Trustee testified that he had had a brief conversation with the judge's courtroom deputy—not with the judge himself—and that the conversation involved a procedural question rather than substantive issues. (Adv. Pro. No. 174, at 2.) The Trustee also argued that the judge's comments at the March 17 hearing and the decision to hold depositions at the courthouse did not reflect bias but instead a desire to have the depositions conducted at the courthouse in order “to avoid any allegations of bad behavior, whether real or perceived.” (Id. at 4.) The Trustee also objected to the appellants' characterization of the legal standards purportedly supporting disqualification.

On May 31, 2022, defendant/appellant Manookian Law noticed the deposition of Judge Walker, for the purpose of addressing “(1) Judge Walker and his staff's communications about this matter with third parties outside of court proceedings and (2) Judge Walker and his staff's investigation into this matter, the parties, or witnesses outside of the Court record.” (Adv. Pro. No. 177.) Judge Walker entered an eight-page Order the next day, quashing the Notice of Deposition. (Adv. Pro. No. 178.) Manookian Law and Brian Manookian filed their Notice of Appeal and Statement of Election on June 14, 2022, specifically giving notice of their appeal to this court “from the Bankruptcy Court's June 1, 2022 Order (Doc. 178),” that is, from the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition.

At the hearing on the Motion to Disqualify, which convened as planned on June 29, 2022, Judge Walker read a statement into the record. In this statement, he expressed his conclusion that, in light of the appeal of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition, the court was divested of jurisdiction over certain aspects of the case, specifically including both the Motion to Disqualify and the appellants' Motion for Summary Judgment, filed ten days after their Notice of Appeal. (Adv. Pro. No. 212, at 4; see also Adv. Pro. No. 188 (Motion for Summary Judgment).)

⁶ The docket reflects that the parties, throughout this time period, continued to engage in discovery disputes.

The appeal of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition is now before the court.

II. LEGAL STANDARD

Under 28 U.S.C. § 158, a district court has jurisdiction to hear a timely appeal as a matter of right from final orders or decrees issued by a bankruptcy court and, “with leave of court,” from interlocutory orders. 28 U.S.C. § 158(a)(1), (a)(3). Rule 8004(a) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure provides that, to appeal from an interlocutory order, a party should file a motion for leave to appeal with its notice of appeal. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 8004(a)(2). At the same time, however, Rule 8004(d) allows the district court to treat a timely notice of appeal as a motion for leave to appeal.

Rule 8004(b) identifies the required elements of a motion for leave to appeal, including (1) “the facts necessary to understand the question presented”; (2) “the question itself”; (3) “the relief sought”; (4) “the reasons why leave to appeal should be granted”; and (5) “a copy of the interlocutory order.” With respect to the fourth element, neither Rule 8004 nor 28 U.S.C. § 158(a) states what factors a district court should consider in deciding whether to grant a motion for leave to appeal. District courts within the Sixth Circuit have adopted the standard set forth in 28 U.S.C. § 1292(b), which deals with interlocutory appeals from district courts to courts of appeal. In re Energy Conversion Devices, Inc., 638 B.R. 81, 88 (E.D. Mich. 2022) (citations omitted). Thus, a district court may permit an interlocutory appeal if (1) the order involves a controlling question of law; (2) a substantial ground for difference of opinion exists regarding the correctness of the decision; and (3) an immediate appeal may materially advance the ultimate termination of the litigation. Id. (citations omitted). “It is well-established that all three statutory requirements must be met for the court to certify an appeal under § 1292(b).” Id. (quoting Lang v. Crocker Park LLC, No. 1:09 CV 1412, 2011 WL 3297865, at *5 (N.D. Ohio July 29, 2011)). Even when all three criteria are met, “district courts have ‘unfettered discretion to deny certification’ in light of the strong bias in federal practice against interlocutory appeals.” In re Great Atl. & Pac. Tea Co., 615 B.R. 717, 722 (S.D.N.Y. 2020) (citation omitted). Further, it is well established that permitting interlocutory appeals is “the exception, rather than the rule.” Energy Conversion Devices, 638 B.R. at 89 (citing In re Doria, No. 09-75261, 2010 WL 2870813, at *2 (E.D. Mich. July 21, 2010)).

III. ANALYSIS

A. The Order Quashing Subpoena Is Not a “Final Order”

In their opening Brief, the appellants contend that the court has jurisdiction over this appeal as a matter of right, under 28 U.S.C. § 158(a), because the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition is a final, appealable order. (Doc. No. 5, at 3.) Alternatively, they ask the court to consider their timely Notice of Appeal as a motion for leave to file an interlocutory appeal. (Id.)

“Orders in bankruptcy cases qualify as ‘final’ when they definitively dispose of discrete disputes within the overarching bankruptcy case.” Ritzen Grp., Inc. v. Jackson Masonry, LLC, 140 S. Ct. 582, 586 (2020) (citing Bullard v. Blue Hills Bank, 575 U.S. 496, 501 (2015)). Thus, for example, “the adjudication of a motion for relief from the automatic stay forms a discrete procedural unit within the embrative bankruptcy case. That unit yields a final, appealable order when the bankruptcy court unreservedly grants or denies relief.” Id. Likewise, orders “denying an application for an administrative expense,” “sustaining an objection to a creditor’s claim,” or “denying a motion under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 60(b)” all qualify as “final orders” that are appealable as of right. In re Murray Energy Holdings Co., 640 B.R. 558, 560–61 (B.A.P. 6th Cir. 2022). Courts distinguish between “discrete disputes” and “discrete issues,” with only the former being subject to immediate appeal. In re Comdisco, Inc., 538 F.3d 647, 651–52 (7th Cir. 2008). “A discrete dispute is one that is essentially separable from the larger case,” while “a decision or order that resolves only an issue that arises during the administration of a bankruptcy estate is too small a litigation unit to justify treatment as a final judgment.” Id.; see also In re Jackson Masonry, LLC, 906 F.3d 494, 500 (6th Cir. 2018) (identifying the “appropriate ‘judicial unit’ for finality analysis” as a “discrete ‘proceeding’” (citations omitted)), aff’d sub nom. Ritzen Grp., Inc. v. Jackson Masonry, LLC, 140 S. Ct. 582 (2020).

The order appealed from in this case is an order quashing a deposition that was sought for the purpose of obtaining evidence in support of the appellants’ Motion to Disqualify Judge Walker. Irrespective of the appellants’ attempts to cast it as a final order, the bankruptcy judge stayed the case pending this appeal, finding that he was divested of jurisdiction over the Motion to Disqualify and the appellants’ Motion for Summary Judgment as a result of their appeal of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition. The appellants, thus, are not in a position to appeal the disposition of the Motion to Disqualify or the Motion for Summary Judgment, because those motions are still pending. While the Motion to Disqualify might arguably constitute a discrete dispute, the resolution of which would qualify as a final order (an issue the court does not reach here), the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition is clearly not. It is an issue arising in the context of resolving the Motion to Disqualify. The court finds, therefore, that the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition is an interlocutory order, not a final order as contemplated by 28 U.S.C. § 158(a).

B. Whether to Grant Leave to Appeal

As set forth above, the court may permit an interlocutory appeal if (1) the order in question involves a controlling question of law; (2) a substantial ground for difference of opinion exists regarding the correctness of the decision; and (3) an immediate appeal may materially advance the ultimate termination of the litigation. Energy Conversion Devices, 638 B.R. at 88.

The appellants' argument in support of an interlocutory appeal glosses over the nature of the order they seek to appeal. Thus, for instance, they argue that their appeal "involves a controlling question of law, because the "[d]isqualification of a judge . . . is governed by statute," which creates an objective standard. (Doc. No. 5, at 9.) They argue that the bankruptcy judge "refused to apply the objective standard or otherwise disclose its ex parte communications about Appellant Manookian," instead scheduling an evidentiary hearing requiring the appellants to put on evidence in support of their Motion to Disqualify—evidence that, they claim, is "exclusively in the Court's possession." (Id. at 10.) The court quashed the Notice of Deposition, thereby allegedly depriving the appellants of the only means by which they could obtain the evidence of the judge's ex parte communications needed to support their Motion to Disqualify.

The appellants are wrong, of course: they possess evidence (such as it is) in the form of the judge's comments during the March 17 hearing and Phillip Young's deposition testimony—the evidence upon which their motion was premised in the first place. Moreover, because they took an appeal prior to the evidentiary hearing and before the judge ruled on their Motion to Disqualify, they have no idea how the judge might have ruled on that motion. More to the point, the appellants have not discussed the law that actually controls the issue they seek leave to appeal: the law establishing the standards for either setting or quashing the deposition of a presiding judge.

Instead, they argue that this court's guidance on the "appropriate standard for recusal and the correct process for considering disqualification requests relating to ex parte communications and extrajudicially developed bias will aid the parties and the Bankruptcy Court." (Id.) They posit that, "[i]f the Bankruptcy Court's Order is vacated and the case returned with instructions that it be transferred to another judge," that new judge "can promptly address remaining discovery and dispositive motions." (Id.) Again, however, the disqualification of the judge is not the question on appeal. The Motion to Disqualify is still pending before the bankruptcy judge, albeit stayed pending resolution of this appeal of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition. The appellants have not referenced or even alluded to the standard the judge applied in quashing the Notice setting his own deposition, much less shown that he applied the wrong standard or that a substantial ground for difference of opinion exists regarding the correctness of the decision.

Regarding the third factor, the appellants argue that denying leave for an interlocutory appeal would result in “wasted litigation and expense,” as it would require them to go back before the Bankruptcy Court for an evidentiary hearing “in which Appellants lack key evidence.” (Id. at 11.) Then, if the Bankruptcy Court denied their disqualification motion, “Appellants would seek review of the denial for the same reasons they now seek review of the Bankruptcy Court’s handling of the disqualification motion.” (Id.) The appellants, again, place the cart before the horse. Judge Walker has not yet “handled” the disqualification motion, and the appellants do not know how he would have ruled on it if they had not sought an interlocutory appeal of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition. They have engaged in wasteful litigation and incurred unnecessary expense in seeking to appeal the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition rather than waiting to see how the judge ruled on their Motion to Disqualify and whether they actually had substantial grounds at that point for seeking to appeal that ruling.

In sum, the appellants have not made the requisite showing on even one of the three required factors. Moreover, even if the court were inclined to grant leave to pursue an interlocutory appeal, the only issue appealed is the appropriateness of the Order Quashing Notice of Deposition. That eight-page Order encompasses six pages of detailed consideration of the regulations governing requests to take the deposition of a judicial officer, set forth in Volume 20, Chapter 8

of the Guide to Judiciary Policy, promulgated by the Director of the Administrative Office of United States Courts.⁷ (See Adv. Pro. No. 178, at 2–7.)

Generally, “[o]rders quashing a subpoena and limiting discovery are reviewed for an abuse of discretion.” In re Milholland, No. AP 14-01589, 2017 WL 895752, at *4 (B.A.P. 10th Cir. Mar. 7, 2017) (citations omitted); accord Jordan v. Comm’r, Miss. Dep’t of Corr., 947 F.3d 1322, 1326 (11th Cir. 2020); In re Grand Jury Proceedings, 744 F.3d 211, 220–21 (1st Cir. 2014); Pointer v. DART, 417 F.3d 819, 821 (8th Cir. 2005); Wiwa v. Royal Dutch Petroleum Co., 392 F.3d 812, 818 (5th Cir. 2004). Moreover, although authority is somewhat limited, courts considering the issue appear to have universally held that, if a presiding judge can be subpoenaed to testify at all “concerning actions taken in his judicial capacity,” it is “[o]nly under extraordinary circumstances.” In re Thompson, 77 B.R. 113, 114 (N.D. Ohio 1987); see also Kananian v. Brayton Purcell, LLP, No. 1:07 CV 3188, 2009 WL 10689208, at *8 (N.D. Ohio May 29, 2009) (noting that those cases finding that a subpoena to compel a judge’s deposition “may proceed in extreme and extraordinary circumstances, in fact never find that such circumstances exist” (collecting cases)). The appellants have not argued that extraordinary circumstances warrant compelling Judge Walker to appear for a deposition and, further, have provided no basis for finding that Judge Walker abused his discretion in issuing the Order Quashing the Notice of Deposition directed to him personally.

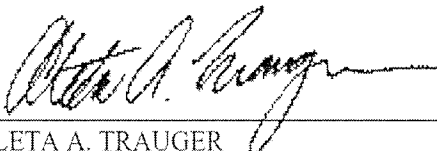

Thus, even if the appellants had shown that an interlocutory appeal was warranted, they have not provided a basis for setting aside the Order they seek to appeal.

IV. CONCLUSION AND ORDER

The court finds that the Order the appellants seek to appeal is not a “final order” that the appellants have an automatic right to appeal. The court, therefore, construes the Notice of Appeal as incorporating a motion for leave to appeal an interlocutory order. That motion is DENIED, for the reasons set forth herein.

It is so ORDERED.

ORDER DENYING MOTION TO DISQUALIFY BANKRUPTCY JUDGE CHARLES WALKER

THIS MATTER came before the Court for an evidentiary hearing¹ on April 4, 2023. At that time, Counsel for the Plaintiff and Counsel for Defendants and Brian Manookian² appeared and were heard. When counsel for the Movants sought to call his first witness, Trustee's counsel

¹ The hearing was set to afford the opportunity for the movants to prosecute their motion either by introduction of evidence and/or argument. "The purpose of an evidentiary hearing is to permit both parties to present their cases and to challenge the other side's case in court and on the record."

In re McCashen, 339 B.R. 907, 908 (Bankr. N.D. Ohio 2006)

objected on the grounds that Movants filed their Witness list in violation of Local Rule 9014-1.³

The Court sustained the objection and no witnesses were presented per that oral ruling. The Court then heard argument from both sides, and for the following reasons, the Motion to Disqualify is DENIED.

The Motion to Disqualify

Brian Manookian, a non-party to this action,⁴ and Manookian PLLC (hereinafter “Movants”), seek to have the sitting judge in this case recused for ex parte communications and extrajudicial research regarding this case. The bases for this motion lie in statements made by Trustee’s counsel during a deposition⁵ on April 12, 2022⁶, and those made in Judge Charles M. Walker’s decision regarding discovery disputes that were the subject of a March 17, 2022 hearing.

This motion alleges that ex parte communications about Brian Manookian made to the Court were improper ex parte conversations requiring Judge Walker to recuse himself for

³ Local Rule 9014 provides in relevant part: (1) Pretrial Court Filings. In addition to the initial disclosures that may be invoked by paragraph (2) below, and regardless of whether such pretrial disclosure process has been invoked, every party shall file with the court and provide to every other party by noon 2 business days prior to the hearing the following information regarding evidence it may present at a hearing or trial (other than solely for impeachment purposes):

(a) The name, address and telephone number of each witness the party expects to present or may call if the need arises;

(b) A copy of the transcript of testimony or affidavit of any witness whose testimony will be offered in that form;

(c) A list and copy, with appropriate identification, of each document or other exhibit a party expects to offer or may offer as evidence. (For any matter to be heard in the Nashville Division, the exhibits shall be filed and exchanged utilizing the court’s Electronic Evidence Submission Application pursuant to the Electronic Evidence Procedures.) . . .

⁴ Sole member of the Debtor and of Defendant, Manookian PLLC

⁵ Philip Young, Trustee’s counsel in this matter, also served as the receiver in a related state court case.

⁶ Although the referenced communication is referred to in footnote #2 of the motion and the transcript attached, the communication is repeatedly referred to as a communication with chambers. Mr. Young states that he spoke with Judge Walker’s courtroom deputy-at-the-time, an employee of the Clerk of Court. No reference, allegation, or argument appears in the motion regarding any ex parte communication between Mr. Young and chambers staff.

violating 28 U.S.C. §§ 455(a) and (b)(1), and the Code of Conduct for Federal Judges.⁷

Specifically, the motion refers to Judge Walker's statements on the record in open court, with all parties' counsel present, regarding calls to the court from lawyers expressing their discomfort if Mr. Manookian were to appear at hearings and depositions in this case. Transcript, P.84.

Movants allege that Judge Walker "engaged in multiple prohibited ex parte communications about Brian Manookian and this proceeding with 'at least two [unidentified] lawyers' while this action has been pending." ECF 161, P1. It appears the allegation of "multiple . . . at least two [unidentified] lawyers" includes a conversation the Trustee's attorney had with a courtroom deputy.⁸

Movants go on to accuse Judge Walker of failing to notify the parties of "its repeated conversations" alleging that the Court only did so much later to justify a ruling regarding the location of depositions, and movants were not afforded the opportunity to respond. Additionally, movants state that these communications had a "corrosive effect on the Court" which has only recently become clear. Id. at P.2.

The motion goes on to assert that Judge Walker's statements regarding Mr. Manookian's "past behavior before tribunals" indicates that the judge has engaged in extrajudicial research and has formed a bias against Mr. Manookian as a result – also requiring recusal. Id. The motion quite emphatically states that "No court has ever found that he [Mr. Manookian] acted even remotely inappropriately, much less in a physically threatening manner, during a deposition – nor, crucially, does the record in this case support such a finding." Id. at P6.

⁷ See § 20:118.25. Ethics and Code of Conduct for Federal Judges, 6 Pat. L. Fundamentals § 20:118.25 (2d ed.).

⁸ The Trustee's attorney is identified in the motion at FN 2.

Co-counsel for Defendants Afsoon Hagh and Hagh Law PLLC filed a response joining in the motion. In this response (ECF 173), those Defendants question the Court's Order setting this motion for evidentiary hearing (ECF 165)⁹ "when the person holding the most pertinent factual information to resolve this motion is the Court, in terms of the contents of the ex parte communications bearing on safety issues." Id at P2. The Plaintiff/Trustee also filed a response, emphasizing that the communications at issue although ex parte, were permissible. ECF 174.

Recusal Standards

Fed. R. Bankr. P. 5004(a) mandates that a bankruptcy judge shall be governed by 28 USC § 455 and disqualified from presiding over a proceeding or contested matter in which the disqualifying circumstance arises or, if appropriate, shall be disqualified from presiding over the case. 28 U.S.C. § 455 provides the legal standards for disqualification of a Judge from a proceeding: 28 U.S.C. § 455(a) and 28 U.S.C. § 455 (b)(1).¹⁰

1. Mandatory Recusal under 28 U.S.C. § 455(a)

The relevant sections of 28 U.S.C. 455 require that a judge be disqualified if there exists a reasonable question as to his impartiality. 28 U.S.C. § 455(a). Specifically:

(a) Any justice, judge, or magistrate judge of the United States shall disqualify himself in any proceeding in which his impartiality might reasonably be questioned.

(b) He shall also disqualify himself in the following circumstances:

(1) Where he has a personal bias or prejudice concerning a party, or personal knowledge of disputed evidentiary facts concerning the proceeding;
28 U.S.C.A. § 455 (West)

"A violation of § 455(a) is established when a reasonable person, knowing the relevant facts, would expect that a justice, judge, or magistrate knew of circumstances creating an appearance of partiality....” Liljeberg v. Health Servs. Acquisition Corp., 486 U.S. 847, 850 (1988). Scientoer of the Judge is not required for a violation of § 455(a). Id. at 859. “[S]ection 455(a) was intended to establish an objective test.” Health Services Acquisition Corp. v. Liljeberg, 796 F.2d 796, 800 (5th Cir. 1986). Judges must recuse themselves if a reasonable, objective person, knowing all of the circumstances, would question the judge's impartiality. Hughes v. United States, 899 F.2d 1495, 1501 (6th Cir. 1990).

While this statute imposes a duty to recuse where grounds exist, there is also a duty not to do so if no cause is shown. In re Fowler, No. 01-10615, 2004 Bankr. LEXIS 67 at *10 (Bankr. E.D. Ky. Jan 29, 2004) (citing Computer Dynamics, Inc., 253 B.R. 693, 698 (E.D. Va. 2000)). Since the standard is objective, "the judge need not recuse himself based on the 'subjective view of a party' no matter how strongly that view is held." United States v. Sammons, 918 F.2d 592, 599 (6th Cir. 1990) (citing Browning v. Foltz, 837 F.2d 276, 279 (6th Cir. 1988), cert. denied, 488 U.S. 1018, 109 S. Ct. 816, 102 L. Ed. 2d 805 (1989)). In fact, “there is as much obligation upon a judge not to recuse himself when there is no occasion as there is for him to do so when there is.” Easley v. Univ. of Mich. Bd. of Regents, 853 F.2d 1351, 1356 (6th Cir. 1988) (quoting In re Union Leader Corp., 292 F.2d 381, 391 (1st Cir. 1961)).”

2. Mandatory Recusal under 28 U.S.C. §455(b)(1)

A Judge shall disqualify himself “where he has a personal bias or prejudice concerning a party, or personal knowledge of disputed evidentiary facts concerning the proceeding.” 28 U.S.C. § 455(b)(1)

a. Personal bias or prejudice

Personal bias is prejudice emanating from a source other than participation in the proceedings or prior contact with related cases. Wheeler v. Southland Corp., 875 F.2d 1246, 1251 (6th Cir. 1989) (citing Demjanjuk v. Petrovsky, 776 F.2d 571, 577 (6th Cir. 1985), cert. denied, 475 U.S. 1016, 89 L. Ed. 2d 312, 106 S. Ct. 1198 (1986)). Disqualifying prejudice or bias must ordinarily be personal or extrajudicial. United States v. Sammons, 918 F.2d 592, 599 (6th Cir. 1990); Wheeler v. Southland Corp., 875 F.2d 1246, 1251 (6th Cir. 1989). Predilections resulting from the record and/or proceedings before the judge, do not constitute bias unless they display such a high degree of favoritism or antagonism as to make fair judgment impossible. Liteky v. United States, 510 U.S. 540, 555 (1994). A judge's conduct must be "so extreme as to display clear inability to render fair judgment" to be characterized as bias or prejudice. Id at 551.

Moreover, a judge is charged with efficient and justiciable case administration. This sometimes means navigating potential difficulties between the parties, as well as ensuring that all proceedings are conducted fairly and do not put any party participating in the proceeding in a position of concern or discomfort. "A judge's ordinary efforts at courtroom administration -- even a stern and short-tempered judge's ordinary efforts at courtroom administration -- remain immune." Id at 556.

Under § 455(b)(1), the issue to be determined is whether the judge retains bias or prejudice as to a particular party or has knowledge of disputed facts. In re AVN Corp., No. 98-20098-L, 1998 WL 35324198 at *3 (Bankr. W.D. Tenn. Dec. 8, 1998). A judge should not recuse himself if his alleged personal bias stems from the facts the judge learned when participating in the case in his judicial capacity. United States v. Story, 716 F.2d 1088, 1090 (6th Cir. 1983). "Under § 455(b)(1), as under § 455(a), inferences drawn from prior judicial determinations concerning a party in the case in which recusal is sought are insufficient because it is the duty of the judge to rule upon issues of fact and law and questions of conduct which form part of the proceedings before him." In re AVN at *3. The United States Supreme Court has emphasized that "judicial rulings alone almost never constitute a valid basis for a bias or partiality motion." Liteky at 555.

b. Personal knowledge of disputed evidentiary facts

'[P]ersonal knowledge' is "knowledge gained through firsthand observation or experience, as distinguished from a belief based on what someone else has said."

KNOWLEDGE, Black's Law Dictionary (11th ed. 2019). Therefore, when it is clear that the facts at issue were gleaned from the court record, including court filings and proceedings before the judge, and thereby not from extrajudicial sources, the judge need not, and should not, recuse himself. United States v. Baker, 441 F. Supp. 612, 618 (M.D.Tenn. 1977). See also Liteky at 551 ("[N]ot subject to deprecatory characterization as "bias" or "prejudice" are opinions held by judges as a result of what they learned in earlier proceedings.")

3. Code of Conduct for Federal Judges¹¹

The Code of Conduct for Federal Judges sets forth the obligations and constraints imposed upon federal judges. This Code of Conduct is not a suggestion or a guideline, it contains provisions that are to be adhered to in an effort to maintain the integrity of the judiciary and cultivate confidence in the judicial process. The relevant provisions or Canons are set forth below:

Canon 3: A Judge Should Perform the Duties of the Office Fairly, Impartially and Diligently

The duties of judicial office take precedence over all other activities. The judge should perform those duties with respect for others, and should not engage in behavior that is harassing, abusive, prejudiced, or biased. The judge should adhere to the following standards:

(A) Adjudicative Responsibilities.

¹¹ Hereinafter "Code of Conduct"

- (4) A judge should accord to every person who has a legal interest in a proceeding, and that person's lawyer, the full right to be heard according to law. Except as set out below, a judge should not initiate, permit, or consider ex parte communications or consider other communications concerning a pending or impending matter that are made outside the presence of the parties or their lawyers. If a judge receives an unauthorized ex parte communication bearing on the substance of a matter, the judge should promptly notify the parties of the subject matter of the communication and allow the parties an opportunity to respond, if requested. A judge may:
 - (a) initiate, permit, or consider ex parte communications as authorized by law;
 - (b) when circumstances require it, permit ex parte communication for scheduling, administrative, or emergency purposes, but only if the ex parte communication does not address substantive matters and the judge reasonably believes that no party will gain a procedural, substantive, or tactical advantage as a result of the ex parte communication; . . .
- (C) Disqualification.
 - (1) A judge shall disqualify himself or herself in a proceeding in which the judge's impartiality might reasonably be questioned, including but not limited to instances in which:
 - (a) the judge has a personal bias or prejudice concerning a party, or personal knowledge of disputed evidentiary facts concerning the proceeding;

§ 20:118.25. Ethics and Code of Conduct for Federal Judges, 6 Pat. L. Fundamentals § 20:118.25 (2d ed.)

Canon 3C of the Code of Conduct mirrors § 455. The statutory provision is binding on the courts as law applicable to whether recusal is required. “The substantially identical canon provision is a subset of a code of judicial obligations that are ethically binding.” Ragozzine v. Youngstown State Univ., 783 F.3d 1077, 1080 (6th Cir. 2015).

“Based on Canon 2 of the Code of Judicial Conduct which states that ‘[a] judge should avoid impropriety and the appearance of impropriety in all his activities’ § 455(a) provides that a ‘judge . . . shall disqualify himself in any proceeding in which his impartiality might reasonably be questioned.’” Securities Investor Protection Corp. v. Bell & Beckwith, 28 B.R. 285, 288, (Bankr. N.D. Ohio 1983).

4. ExParte Communications

A. Definition

Black's Law Dictionary defines "ex parte communication" as "A communication between counsel or a party and the court when opposing counsel or party is not present."

COMMUNICATION, Black's Law Dictionary (11th ed. 2019). Black's Law Dictionary further defines "ex parte" as "[d]one or made at the instance and for the benefit of one party only, and without notice to, or argument by, anyone having an adverse interest; of, relating to, or involving court action taken or received by one party without notice to the other." EX PARTE, Black's Law Dictionary (11th ed. 2019)

B. Ex Parte and the Code of Conduct: Communication Regarding Scheduling is Allowable.

The Code of Conduct for Federal Judges discusses ex parte communications in Canon 3(A) stating specifically that "except as set out below, a judge should not initiate, permit, or consider ex parte communications." (emphasis added). Then below, Canon 3 states "A judge may (b) when circumstances require it, permit ex parte communication for scheduling, administrative, or emergency purposes, but only if the ex parte communication does not address substantive matters and the judge reasonably believes that no party will gain a procedural, substantive, or tactical advantage as a result of the ex parte communication." Code of Conduct Canon 3(A)(4)(b). Additionally, Canon 3 states that "[i]f a judge receives an unauthorized ex parte communication bearing on the substance of the matter, the judge should promptly notify the parties of the subject matter of the communication and allow the parties an opportunity to respond, if requested." Id. (emphasis added).

The 6th Circuit in Gerber v. Veltri verified that a communication between Judge and counsel for limited, administrative purposes was not prohibited by Canon 3(A)(4)(b):

“When circumstances require it, Canon 3(A)(4)(b) ‘permit[s] ex parte communication for scheduling, administrative, or emergency purposes,’ but only ‘if the ex parte communication does not address substantive matters and the judge reasonably believes that no party will gain a procedural, substantive, or tactical advantage as a result of the ex parte communication.’ Judge Zouhary’s discussion with defense counsel was for these limited, administrative purposes. What is more, plaintiff identifies no advantage that defendant received as a result of the communication.”

Gerber v. Veltri, 702 Fed. App’x. 423, 433 n.7 (6th Cir. 2017).

C. Ex parte communications on the record provide all parties meaningful opportunity to address.

Disclosing ex parte communications on the record and before counsel allows for any objections and affords all parties the opportunity to correct any errors which may have resulted. See Moore v. Mitchell, No. 1:00-CV-023, 2007 WL 4754340, at *30 (S.D. Ohio Feb. 15, 2007) (citations omitted).

As described by other Bankruptcy Courts and as noted in Black’s Law Dictionary, “the term ‘ex parte’ includes in the definition: ‘a judicial proceeding, order, injunction, etc., is said to be ex parte when it is taken or granted at the instance and for the benefit of one party only, and without notice to, or contestation by, any person adversely interested.’” (emphasis supplied). Attorney Registration & Disciplinary Com. of Supreme Court of Illinois v. Betts, 143 B.R. 1016, 1019 (Bkrcty.N.D.Ill. 1992) (quoting Black’s Law Dictionary, (6th ed. 1990)).

Discussion

The movants here rely on three immaterial facts to support their request for disqualification: (1) the calls to the court by two lawyers advising of their concerns for their safety regarding Brian Manookian, (2) Mr. Young’s communication with a courtroom deputy regarding the same concerns; and (3) Judge Walker's statement on the record regarding Mr. Manookian's behavior in other tribunals.

Movants argue that Judge Walker received numerous phone calls from attorneys informing the court that there existed a restraining order against Mr. Manookian put in place by an attorney for one of the creditors of the case and that those calls were impermissible ex parte communications that prejudiced the judge against Mr. Manookian. The motion alleges that Mr. Young also contacted the judge regarding the same situation.

In fact, Judge Walker did not refer to his personal receipt of any calls regarding the case. He did refer to the court receiving communication from lawyers about Mr. Manookian, but at no time did Judge Walker indicate that any material issue was the topic of an ex parte communication, nor did he state that there was any ex parte communication involving himself or any chambers staff:

[.] . . and I've had at least two lawyers call the Court and say they don't feel comfortable if your client is going to appear, . . .
Transcript at p. 84

Despite accusations to the contrary, Judge Walker fully explained on the record the effect those calls had on his view of the matter before him:

. . . and, you know, the Court takes those concerns very seriously and makes no conclusion on whether they are valid, they are perceptions which drive behaviors of other parties.
Transcript at p. 85

The Court is charged with the integrity of the record. Part of maintaining that integrity involves courts calling for parties to articulate matters on the record. It is also important to note that the record contains past rulings made by a tribunal in the proceeding, or in the case of bankruptcy, an adversary to the proceeding. Moreover, Courts communicate with the parties to an action via the record. That is why this Court disclosed the ex parte communications from counsel regarding the restraining order against Mr. Manookian on the record in open Court. That is the way courts disclose these things.

Although the motion states that the movants were never able to respond to the ex parte representations or even make a record regarding those allegedly improper communications, when given the opportunity, Mr. Spragens merely objected to the depositions being held at the courthouse:

MR. SPRAGENS: That's fine, Your Honor. And just for the record, I'll preserve my objection to that. And I heard Mr. Gabbert object to it earlier, as well.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, if the parties can't agree, you know, you still have the opportunity to agree on a location.

MR. SPRAGENS: Sure.

Transcript at p.83

MR. SPRAGENS: Well, and, you know, my office is just down the street and parking is free. There's no security issue. I don't think that there's any record that would support that there is a security issue in this ordinary bankruptcy case involving professional lawyers on all sides. So this proposal was presented to me. I said I disagreed with it. And Mr. Young said, well, we'll take it up with the Court. So, you know, in my view, this is the departure from the norm, not the other way around.

Transcript at p. 84

Mr. Spragen's disagreement that there was a security issue was heard and considered by the court because it is the responsibility of the judge to consider any issues brought before him that would impact the integrity of the judicial process. Mr. Spragen's opinion, however, does not trump a state court judge who found there to be a threat such that a restraining order was issued. Security is one of the issues Judge Walker is charged with addressing. Doing so in an abundance of caution does not indicate overreach or prejudice, but instead indicates his diligence in protecting the parties and the veracity of the proceedings.

The third occurrence that movants insist requires disqualification stems from Judge Walker's comments regarding Mr. Manookian's behavior before other tribunals. Although movants insist that there is nothing in the record regarding information that would support these comments, movants would be dead wrong.

On November 18, 2019, the Trustee filed an Application and Notice to Employ Thompson Burton PLLC as Special Counsel to the Trustee in the main bankruptcy case. See 3:19-bk-07235, ECF 6. Brian Manookian, acting *pro se*¹², filed an objection to the application. The Court conducted a hearing on December 17, 2019 at which time both parties appeared and presented argument. The Court took the matter under advisement, entering Order Regarding Trustee's Application and Notice to Employ Thompson Burton PLLC as Special Counsel for the Estate and Allowing the Trustee Until December 24, 2019 to File Supplemental Application and Supporting Affidavit to Specifically Detail the Scope of Work and Provide Details and Full Disclosure of Any Current or Potential Conflicts that May Exist. ECF 20. On December 21, 2019, the Trustee filed a Supplemental Brief/Memorandum in Support of the Application to Employ Special Counsel. ECF 21. Exhibit A to that filing was a copy of a Motion to Subject Property, Issue Writs of Execution and Distrings/Fieri Facias, Appoint Receiver and Grant Injunctive Relief as filed in the Circuit Court of Williamson County, Tennessee, filed on April 25, 2019. Id. at Ex. A. The motion included the following relevant statements:

5. After a series of hearings and follow-up motions that spanned more than two years, Judge Binkley of this Court found that Mr. Manookian had knowingly, willfully, and intentionally violated the Protective Order and, inter alia attempted “to mislead the Court from uncovering his violations of the Court’s Orders by any means necessary.”. . . [.]
6. Finding that Messrs. Manookian and Hammervold had (a) abused the discovery process, (b) failed to maintain candor with this court, (c) continuously violated the Agreed Protective Order, and (d) attempted to defraud the court for over two years, this Court imposed monetary sanctions on Mr. Manookian . . . [.]

¹² Brian Manookian was acting in his capacity as owner of the Debtor, Cummings Manookian, PLLC. He was not acting as an attorney representing himself as the owner due to his disbarment by the Tennessee Supreme Court.

Additionally, on page 14 of the referenced motion, there is an entire section entitled MR. MANOOKIAN'S HISTORY OF VIOLATING COURT ORDERS in which Mr. Young, as potential Receiver, illustrates Mr. Manookian's behavior in other tribunals by recounting sanctions imposed against him by federal and state courts for:

- Acting in bad faith and disrupting the litigation process
- Engaging in a pattern of obfuscation
- Failure to provide credible explanations
- Engaging in conduct that essentially amounted to a flouting of the Court's Orders
- Repeatedly ignoring the clear directives of the Court
- Conducting himself in a reckless manner (emphasis added)

Mr. Manookian prosecuted his objection to the Application but did not at any time contest any supplement to the application that contained information about his behavior before other courts.

In the same vein, during the March 17, 2022 hearing, Mr. Spragens at no time expressed any concern or asked even one question regarding the issue of the ex parte communications or any alleged extrajudicial inquiry, despite numerous opportunities to address these alleged egregiously prejudicial acts. In fact, Judge Walker expressed his objective approach to the situation by pointing out that it would protect all parties from any uncomfortable situation or any accusation, as well as aid in the expeditious and efficient administration of discovery:

And to eliminate any of those perceptions, and to protect everyone against any allegations of bad behavior, misbehavior, or perceived misbehavior, it makes sense to do them here in an environment where no one can get your client further down a rabbit hole of he did this or he did that, that we're in a neutral environment, which affords certain protections. And if nothing else, in terms of everybody's on their best behavior.

Transcript at p. 85

And so the Court's going to make that determination, that the depositions, unless the parties can agree, will be held here in the courthouse. And as a matter of fact, again, there will be some method available to reach the Court if during those depositions we have further issues with discovery.
Transcript at p. 86

Moreover, despite alleging a “corrosive effect on the Court,” movants point to no other prejudice to Mr. Manookian than the location of the depositions. There was no accusation linked to any ruling on a material issue, no objection overruled that hindered or impaired the movant’s rights in this matter, and in fact, no instance of prejudice against the movants was articulated at all. The prejudice alleged from these three occurrences was that the depositions in this case were conducted in the courthouse. The location of depositions is an administrative issue, not a material issue. It does not impact the issues before the Court. Although Movants insist that requiring the depositions to be held in the courthouse reflects the presence of the Court’s prejudice against Mr. Manookian, what it more reasonably reflects is the judge’s familiarity with the case. The hearing on March 17, 2022 involved cross-motions to compel and reflected the biggest issue so far in this adversary: discovery. In fact, the case is comprised mostly of three years of discovery disputes, with rulings reflecting the Court’s stamina for fairness and justiciable administration of the case.

Moreover, none of these issues are material to the case. Material to the logistics of the case, sure, but given the inability of these parties and these witnesses to conduct discovery without disagreeing about every little detail, it was necessary for the judge to rule on all of the discovery matters and to do so in an equitable, fair and reasonable manner – and that he did. The judge’s directions and rulings regarding the exhausting number disclosure disputes were clearly issued so as to prevent all involved from becoming hostages of the discovery process.

The expectation of lawyers in the discovery process, as reflected in the applicable rules, is to conduct themselves in a professional, civil, and agreeable manner in order to resolve the case, either on the merits or by settlement. The contentious nature of these discovery proceedings are a beast – one might say a gorilla - with which the Court has tamed as best as possible.

Furthermore, this Court never had to rely on extrajudicial research. The record contains the rulings from other tribunals that have found Mr. Manookian to have acted in bad faith, engaged in a pattern of obfuscation, and conducted himself in a reckless manner. Specifically, a Williamson County judge found that Mr. Manookian had knowingly, willfully, and intentionally violated a Protective Order and then attempted to mislead that court about the violation. That judge found Mr. Manookian's behavior regarding discovery matters to be so egregious that he imposed significant monetary sanctions against him. All of this is part of the record of this case.

Additionally, this Court did not find that Mr. Manookian posed a threat. That was a conclusion found by the state court that issued the restraining order. This Court simply sought to honor that order – as federal courts do with most state court orders – and protect the integrity of these proceedings. Further, Movants neglect to mention that this judge emphasized that having the depositions in the courthouse protected everyone, including Mr. Manookian.

Conclusion

Therefore, although the Movants express their perceptions of bias and prejudice, the record does not support that as a reasonable view. The record shows not only evenhanded judgment in this proceeding, but also illustrates this Court's elevated patience with a painful number of discovery disputes, including the one that is the catalyst to this motion. Since any ex parte communication was permissible in that it was not material but concerned security and administrative procedures within the Court, and because no extrajudicial research was conducted to impair this Court's impartiality, it is mandatory that the motion to disqualify be denied. Since there was no reasonable possibility that the sitting judge's objectivity and neutrality has been compromised, it is incumbent that he remain on the case

Therefore, for the reasons stated above, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the Motion to Disqualify is DENIED.

MOTION TO SCHEDULE PRETRIAL CONFERENCE

Comes now Jeanne Ann Burton, Trustee (the “Trustee”), who respectfully moves to schedule a pretrial conference both Adversary Proceeding Number 3:20-ap-90002 (the “Trustee AP”) and Adversary Proceeding Number 3:23-ap-90036 (the “Cummings AP”). As grounds for this Motion, the Trustee states that:

1. The Trustee AP has essentially been on hold for nearly a year, after Afsoon Hagh, Hagh Law, PLLC, Manookian, PLLC, and Brian Manookian filed a motion to recuse The Honorable Charles M. Walker from this proceeding, and then proceeded to appeal an interlocutory order related to that motion. There are a number of matters that need to be discussed and/or scheduled related to the Trustee AP, including: (1) ordering a key witness, Marty Fitzgerald, to sit for a subpoenaed deposition; and (2) resetting all pretrial dates, including deadlines for dispositive motions, since those deadlines all expired during the pendency of the appeal.

2. More recently, the United States District Court for the Middle District of Tennessee has referred the Cummings AP to this Court for determination. In essence, the Cummings AP seeks a legal determination as to the rights to legal fees generated in a case known as the “Shoemaker” case among Brian Cummings, Afsoon Hagh, and this bankruptcy estate. The Cummings AP involves some (but not all) issues that are present in the Trustee AP. The Trustee believes that the parties and the Court need to determine whether the Cummings AP should proceed in concert with the Trustee AP, or whether it should proceed on an independent schedule to be set by the Court.

3. Wherefore, the Trustee respectfully requests that the Court schedule a pretrial conference at the Court’s convenience to discuss these matters or, alternatively, to enter its own pretrial order that addresses these issues.

Respectfully submitted,

APPELLANTS BRIAN MANOOKIAN, MANOOKIAN PLLC, AFSOON HAGHM HAGH LAW PLLC STATEMENT OF ISSUES ON APPEAL AND DESIGNATION OF RECORD

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 8009, and the District Court's Acknowledgement of Receipt of Appeal dated April 24, 2023 (Doc. No. 235) Appellants Brian Manookian, Manookian PLLC, Afsoon Hagh, and Hagh Law PLLC ("Appellants") hereby file this Statement of the Issues to be Presented on Appeal and Designation of Items to be Included in the Appellate Record.

I. Issues To Be Presented

Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred in failing to recuse itself where it belatedly revealed, but declines to detail, engaging in multiple ex parte communications about this litigation with one or more attorneys representing parties in this litigation ; and where the Court continues to decline to reveal the substance, date, and parties to each of the ex parte communications.

Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred in failing to recuse itself where it quashed a subpoena to itself seeking to determine the specifics of the Court's ex parte communications and, in that Order, articulated additional biases and prejudices against the moving party.

Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred in failing to recuse itself where it belatedly revealed that it has been relying upon, and, indeed, admitted to basing its decisions in this case on, a highly inflammatory, vacated Tennessee state court order, which had long since been overturned by the Tennessee Court of Appeals, about one of the parties to this litigation; and which order was issued by a Tennessee state trial court judge who was additionally disqualified from that action on the bases of bias.

II. Designation of Items To Be Included in Appellate Record

The items to be included in the appellate record consist of the following:

- All docket entries in the bankruptcy proceeding (No. 3:19-bk-07235) and related adversary proceeding (No. 3:20-ap-90002), specifically including adversary proceeding docket entries 161, 165, 173, 174, 177, 178, 229 and all attachments thereto.
- Transcript of June 29, 2022 adversary proceeding hearing on motion to disqualify.
- Transcript (forthcoming) of April 4, 2023 hearing on motion to disqualify (transcript requested at Docket No. 226).

1 (Proceedings commence at 8:03 a.m.)

2 THE COURTROOM DEPUTY: All rise. The United States
3 Bankruptcy Court for the Middle District of Tennessee is now in 4 session. The Honorable Charles M. Walker presiding.

5 THE COURT: Good morning. Please take your seats.

6 THE COURTROOM DEPUTY: Your Honor, we're here on Case
7 20-90002, Burton v. Hagh Law, PLLC.

8 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Spragens, your motion.

9 MR. SPRAGENS: Yes, Your Honor. Your Honor, as the 10 Court knows, excuse me, we're here today on a motion to recuse
11 the Court from proceeding -- presiding over this matter. I'd 12 be happy to reserve argument for the end, if that's okay with 13 the Court, and just go ahead and put on a witness.

14 THE COURT: Proceed.

15 MR. YOUNG: Your Honor, at this time I'm going to 16 lodge an objection to any witnesses or exhibits being offered
17 because of failure to comply with Rule 9014-1. That rule
18 requires any witness and exhibit list to be filed by noon on 19 the second business day prior to a hearing. That would have 20 been Friday at noon.

21 In this case, no witness and exhibit list was filed
22 until yesterday at about 10:30, and even then it didn't comply
23 with the rule in that there was no substance of testimony
24 listed. So we would object to the presentation of any 25 witnesses or exhibits in this case.

1 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Spragens, response?

2 MR. SPRAGENS: Your Honor, it is true that we filed
3 our exhibit list inside of two business days prior to this
4 morning's hearing, and I apologize to the Court for that. That
5 was an oversight on our part. I thought that the substance of 6 the testimony that we were expecting to offer was well known to 7 everyone since we had put it in the briefing. I didn't think
8 there were any surprises there.

9 So I would ask the Court to let me call Mr. Young to 10 testify about the limited topic of his conversations with the 11 Court or the Court staff, for purposes of today's evidentiary
12 hearing.

13 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Young?

14 MR. YOUNG: Yes, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Do you still have an objection to 16 offering that limited scope?

17 MR. YOUNG: I do, Your Honor, because Rule 9014-1
18 wasn't complied with, and the Local Rules are here for a
19 reason. The Court's order specifically directed the parties to 20 comply with all federal rules and all local rules. The Court
21 put that in the order itself scheduling this hearing. So we
22 would have an objection, and if the Court is going to allow me,
23 I also want to -- is going to allow testimony on my part, I
24 want to talk about Rule 3.7 of the Rules of Professional 25 Conduct as well regarding my participation in the hearing, if

1 the Court's inclined to allow that testimony.

2 MR. SPRAGENS: Your Honor, could I just briefly
3 respond to that?

4 THE COURT: Yes.

5 MR. SPRAGENS: I haven't heard any articulation of 6 prejudice. I do apologize for failing to follow the local
7 rule, but I -- since we've talked about this subject now for 8 several months, and we briefed the testimony that we're seeking
9 from Mr. Young previously, I don't think there's any unfair
10 surprise. And I don't think that the very limited nature of 11 the testimony we're seeking, you know, there's any prejudice
12 from filing the list 26 hours in advance of the hearing instead
13 of 48 hours on business days.

14 THE COURT: Well, I guess here's the question. Since 15 you've already got Mr. Young's deposition, that's been 16 submitted in the record already, what new is to be gained by 17 further testimony from Mr. Young covering the same ground? Why
18 not just proceed with your argument?

19 MR. SPRAGENS: Well, I would be inclined to ask Mr.
20 Young if he stands by all the testimony in that deposition,
21 just to confirm that. I would certainly be prepared to impeach
22 him with that testimony if he changes his responses, you know,
23 typical of any courtroom testimony.

24 Beyond that, if the Court declines to let Mr. Young
25 testify today, we do have his deposition transcript, and I

1 would ask the Court to take judicial notice of it.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. YOUNG: And we would have no objection to the 4 entry of that deposition testimony.

5 THE COURT: All right. Well, this one is an
6 interesting case, as all parties are aware. The fact that this 7 case was scheduled last week, so there was an actual additional
8 week to file and comply with all the rules, makes the Court
9 hesitant to extend further grace in this matter. So the Court
10 is going to sustain the objection lodged by the trustee's
11 counsel, and you may proceed with your argument. And,
12 obviously, the Court's well aware of the issues. Mr. Young has 13 given his deposition. So you're welcome to proceed.

14 MR. SPRAGENS: Your Honor, the next matter with 15 respect to argument is how -- how I might inquire about the 16 Court's knowledge of ex parte communications between Mr. Young
17 and the Court's office, or the Court's staff.

18 As you know, we attempted to notice your deposition
19 to try to find out what you knew. You quashed that subpoena.
20 I've tried to list you again as a witness today because we're 21 in a tough situation here as a litigant who is -- I'm trying to 22 find out about ex parte communications between some outside
23 attorneys and the Court, and we don't know what's been said.
24 We don't know who said them. So --

25 THE COURT: I think you do know. You took

1 Mr. Young's deposition, and you have exactly what you have that
2 led to you filing the motion in the first place. You have my
3 statements on the record. You may proceed however you like,
4 but the Court doesn't have any knowledge other than what you've
5 already been given.

6 MR. SPRAGENS: Okay. Well, if that's the Court's
7 statement on the matter, I appreciate it. Your Honor,
8 my -- I'll just argue and let you know the way we look at this
9 issue in this case.

10 THE COURT: And let me clarify. When you say "we,"
11 Mr. Gabbert, are you joined in with this argument in full or 12 partially?

13 MR. GABBERT: I'm supporting the motion, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. SPRAGENS: So, Your Honor, the fact is this 16 Court, in setting up the logistics of depositions, which 17 ordinarily would be occurring at my office when I'm putting 18 forward a witness -- that's routine in my practice. You know,
19 I've got parking places. I've got a conference room, and we
20 have depositions there on a weekly or every other weekly basis.
21 You know, Mr. Young made a representation at a hearing that he 22 was not comfortable with that deposition being set in my
23 conference room and with Mr. Manookian testifying there.

24 We stood at this podium and had a discussion about
25 that, and the Court undertook to address the hundred pound

1 gorilla in the room, that's the Court's language, and what the
2 Court said was that my client's "past behavior before the
3 tribunals -- I've had at least two lawyers call the Court and
4 say they don't feel comfortable if your client is going to 5 appear and you know the Court takes those concerns very
6 seriously and makes no conclusion on whether they're valid.
7 They are perceptions which drive behaviors of other parties."

8 That was the first I had ever learned or, you know,
9 my client had ever learned about contact from outside lawyers
10 with the Court about whether Mr. Manookian posed a safety risk
11 or whether other people felt uncomfortable, whatever that 12 means, appearing with him in this court. We endeavored to 13 learn more about that. I did ask Mr. Young those questions
14 during his deposition. I learned about one contact that Mr.
15 Young had had, and that was at the outset of this whole
16 proceeding.

17 Mr. Young testified, on Page 44 of his deposition,
18 that he called this Court's Courtroom Deputy to alert her to 19 the fact that a creditor's lawyer had an order of protection.
20 And he, Mr. Young, represented that this was a logistical
21 question about an order of protection that Dan Puryear had and 22 that he was contacting the Court about that. He testified he
23 believed that the person he spoke to was Lauren, the courtroom
24 reputy, and the record speaks for himself -- itself that he did
25 not file a motion about this issue. He did not alert me at any

1 time. The first we learned about this contact was when the
2 Court mentioned it, assuming the Court is talking about the
3 same telephone call that Mr. Young testified about.

4 So there was an ex parte communication specifically
5 about the safety risk posed by my client. That was how we 6 started this case, and I first learned about that when the
7 Court mentioned it sua sponte in endeavoring to build a record
8 sua sponte to justify holding depositions in this courthouse
9 instead of in the ordinary course at my office. So to me, that 10 contact is troubling. That contact was not disclosed by the 11 Court. It was not disclosed by Mr. Young, and I learned about 12 it in this courtroom from this Court's, you know, statements on 13 the record.

14 Then there has been apparently another -- you know,
15 you said at least two. I don't know who the second phone call
16 was. I don't know what attorney called. I don't know if it
17 was Mr. Puryear or somebody else, but there have been 18 apparently two phone calls to the Court or its personnel about 19 my client, and the Court formed enough of a view about 20 Mr. Manookian that it departed from the ordinary course in how 21 depositions were to be conducted.

22 I would add that those depositions were completely
23 uneventful. We all sat in those -- in those rooms down the 24 hall and, you know, I can't prove the counterfactual, but
25 that's how they would have been if they were held at my office

1 too. I have every reason --

2 THE COURT: Well, you can't prove that, can you?

3 MR. SPRAGENS: No, I can't, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Were other depositions taken here in the 5 courthouse?

6 MR. SPRAGENS: Yes, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: So it wasn't just Mr. Manookian's
8 deposition?

9 MR. SPRAGENS: That's right. You ordered that all
10 depositions would be taken in the courthouse based on the 11 finding that Mr. Manookian posed some sort of a risk to other
12 parties. That's my recollection. I think that was the basis
13 for your ruling.

14 So the -- the issue here is we know about one contact
15 that is, I think, very prejudicial to my client. I think the 16 fact that we departed from the ordinary course demonstrates 17 that it has tainted the Court's view of my client. Your 18 comments about his behavior toward the tribunals and other
19 lawyers calling, I believe that that gives a reasonable
20 observer a basis to question this Court's impartiality.

21 And to this day, I don't know about the second
22 contact. I know that there's been another attorney who's 23 called your chambers, and I don't know who it was. I don't 24 know what they said, and this Court never came out and 25 disclosed that to us until it served the interest of the ruling

1 that the Court was making. It never disclosed it on the
2 record. It never said I think everyone just needs to know
3 about this. And, certainly, Mr. Young never disclosed his
4 contact to us, didn't get me on the phone to call the Court.
5 And there was nothing emergent about the phone call. It could
6 have been done through the ordinary adversary process. It
7 could have been put on the docket.

8 So in our view, the two contacts, the failure to 9 disclose the contacts, the departure from the ordinary course,
10 all provides a reasonable basis to suggest that this Court's
11 impartiality can be questioned. It is not to say that this 12 Court is a, you know, biased tribunal. It's not to say that 13 this Court is unfair, and I make no judgments about this 14 Court's, you know, fairness or decency. It's, obviously, not
15 fun to have to come stand here and argue this motion in front
16 of you. However, the standard is an objective standard. It is 17 would a reasonable observer question this Court's impartiality,
18 and I think given the multiple contacts, the lack of 19 disclosure, and the fact that the litigation somewhat sua
20 sponte departed from the ordinary course suggests that a
21 reasonable observer would raise those questions.

22 So that's why we've asked this Court to recuse
23 itself. It shouldn't slow down the litigation. There are 24 other bankruptcy judges in this courthouse who can pick right
25 back up where we left off. If they have formed views of

1 Mr. Manookian, by reading news articles or other interactions
2 they've had with lawyers in the community, they can disclose
3 them. We can figure out what to do about them, and we can find
4 a bankruptcy judge who doesn't have any knowledge or
5 prejudgment of Mr. Manookian's character or his propensity for 6 some sort of unspecified misconduct.

7 Finally, I would just point out that I don't think
8 there is anything in the record that suggests that he's ever
9 behaved in any sort of dangerous or threatening way in front of 10 a court or in a deposition. I would just note that for the 11 record. So if Your Honor has any questions, I'm happy to 12 answer them. I appreciate the hearing.

13 THE COURT: Well, are there any documents that have 14 filed in this case from other tribunals?

15 MR. SPRAGENS: I'm not sure I understand what the 16 Court is asking.

17 THE COURT: Just that. There are documents that have 18 been filed on the record in this case from other tribunals.
19 Could that possibly be a way that a court might find out about
20 what's going on in a case?

21 MR. SPRAGENS: If you're talking about the Williamson
22 County Court in front of Judge Binkley, is that the -- I'm
23 sorry, Your Honor. I can't -- it feels a little bit like law
24 school where I don't know the answer that you're looking for 25 here, so --

1 THE COURT: I'm not looking for an answer at all,
2 Mr. Spragens. I -- and disregard -- disregard the question.

3 MR. SPRAGENS: Okay. I mean, to me I don't know
4 anything in the record in this case that demonstrates some sort
5 of misconduct toward a tribunal. If the Court is suggesting
6 that it contacted another judge to ask about Mr. Manookian, or 7 something like that, you know, I think that that's also
8 improper and an ex parte communication. So I'd love to hear
9 about that if that is what we're getting at here.

10 THE COURT: That's not what we're getting at. So any 11 other argument?

12 MR. SPRAGENS: No, Your Honor. Thank you.

13 THE COURT: All right. Anything, Mr. Gabbert?

14 MR. GABBERT: No, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Young?

16 MR. YOUNG: Your Honor, Phillip Young on behalf of 17 the trustee. I'm going to keep this very brief because this 18 isn't our motion, and the motion seeks relief that's not 19 directly related to the trustee's case. I'll only note really 20 two things just for the record.

21 I don't think that scheduling depositions at the 22 courthouse is a departure from the ordinary course. Trustees
23 depose people at the courthouse all the time. We discussed
24 that at this status conference.

25 I also would note that the Chase -- the orders that

1 gave rise to the Chase claim, that's what we've referred to it,
2 so the Williamson County orders have in fact been filed in this
3 case on multiple occasions by multiple parties, and I
4 don't -- I think that could certainly form the basis of the 5 Court's opinion about other tribunals.

6 We filed a response in this case at Docket Number
7 174. The purpose of that response was just to clarify some of 8 the facts and to clarify the law and the issues related to the 9 motion. But unless the Court has further questions of me,
10 we'll just rely on that response.

11 THE COURT: All right. No questions.

12 MR. GABBERT: Just for the record, I've been 13 practicing in this court for 40 years, over 40 years. This is 14 the first case I have ever had that depositions have been 15 required at the courthouse without any explanation except that.

16 THE COURT: All right. Anything else?

17 MR. SPRAGENS: No, Your Honor. We'll rest on our 18 brief and the argument presented today.

19 MR. YOUNG: Nothing else, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: All right. The Court will take a short
21 recess, and I will rule from the bench.

22 THE COURTROOM DEPUTY: All rise.

23 (Recess taken at 8:19 a.m.)

24 (Proceedings resumed at 9:17 a.m.)

25 THE COURTROOM DEPUTY: All rise.

1 THE COURT: Please take your seats. All right. We
2 are here in the Burton v. Hagh, Case Number 20-90002, motion to
3 disqualify. I will read an oral ruling from the bench at this
4 time. Court would like to thank counsel for the briefings and
5 the arguments in this case.

6 This matter is before the Court today to address
7 Defendant's motion to disqualify the presiding judge from the 8 case pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Sections 455(a) and (b)(1), and the 9 Code of Conduct for Federal Judges. Mr. Gabbert advised the 10 Court that he joins in the motion on behalf of the Defendants,
11 Afsoon Hagh and Hagh Law.

12 We opened today with the objection of the trustee to 13 the presentation of any witnesses or evidence based on the 14 motion -- on the movant's failure to comply with Local Rule
15 9014-1. Mr. Spragens apologized to the Court and stated that 16 there was no prejudice from the filing of the witness list a
17 mere 26 hours prior to the hearing. That argument begs the 18 question then why have a rule. The rules are in place to 19 maintain the balance and integrity of these proceedings. That 20 is why the Court ordered compliance with all applicable federal 21 and local rules in the order setting this hearing.

22 It is also important to note that upon Mr. Gabbert's
23 motion the afternoon before the original hearing, this matter
24 was continued with no witness list filed prior to that hearing
25 or in the week after. And, finally, as Mr. Gabbert so

1 | graciously reminded the Court, he has been practicing in this
2 | Court for 40 years. So the rules and procedures are not
3 | unknown to him. They should, in fact, be second nature.
4 | Therefore, the objection to the presentation of witnesses and
5 | evidence is sustained.

6 | As for the motion, movants allege the -- that
7 | impermissible ex parte communications have occurred between the
8 | Judge, the Judge's chamber staff, and third parties, as well as
9 | Plaintiff's attorney, and this Court failed to disclose these
10 | communications. They also allege that the judge conducted an
11 | independent investigation involving extra judicial research
12 | into matters regarding Brian Manookian, and these allegations
13 | have resulted in a prejudice against Mr. Manookian.

14 | Although it appears that it is an impermissible
15 | stretch to accuse a sitting judge of having direct
16 | conversations with third parties, as well as conducting an
17 | investigation regarding a person who is not a party to any case
18 | before him, the movants insist that the allegations are so
19 | egregious that disqualification is the only judicial -- the
20 | only judicable outcome of their motion.

21 | The accusations here are that the judge is prejudice
22 | against a potential witness in this adversary proceeding. The
23 | accusations are based on various fragments and snippets, both
24 | on and off the record, all attributed to the judge in some
25 | convoluted way and that somehow these allegations pieced

1 together, like letters cut from a magazine for a ransom note,
2 contains some legitimacy simply because Mr. Manookian says they
3 do. The motion is rife with language and projections crafted
4 to incite indignation. But Mr. Manookian is mistaken to think
5 that such presentation lends legitimacy to an argument relying
6 on a reasonable belief.

7 He is also mistaken to think his judgment rules the 8 day. Although his belief is the subject of the motion, that 9 belief is also subject to a test for reasonableness. The 10 determination he seeks is an objective one. In other words, it
11 is not legitimate simply because he believes it. It is only
12 valid if a reasonable person would believe the same thing.

13 28 U.S.C. Section 455(a) states any United States
14 judge shall disqualify himself in any proceeding in which his 15 impartiality might reasonably be questioned. 28 U.S.C. Section
16 455(b)(1) states that a judge shall disqualify himself where he 17 has a personal bias or prejudice concerning a party, or 18 personal knowledge of disputed evidentiary facts concerning the 19 proceedings. Canon 3(c) of the Code of Conduct for Federal 20 Judges is almost identical to 28 U.S.C. Section 455, requiring 21 a judge to remove themselves from a case if there is a
22 reasonable appearance of impartiality, personal bias or 23 prejudice, or personal knowledge of a disputed evidentiary
24 fact.

25 The record, for those of you who might need a

1 refresher, is established by either communicating with the
2 Court while the Court is in session, or by filing something on
3 the Court docket. The Court is charged with the integrity of 4 the record. Part of maintaining that integrity involves 5 court -- courts calling for parties to articulate matters on
6 the record. It is also important to note that the record
7 contains past rulings made by a tribunal in the proceedings, or 8 in the case of a bankruptcy, an adversary to the proceeding.
9 Moreover, courts communicate with the parties to an action via
10 the record. That is why this Court disclosed the ex parte
11 communications from counsel, regarding the restraining order
12 against Mr. Manookian, on the record in open court. That is 13 why courts disclose these things.

14 Extrajudicial research, on the other hand, would be 15 information garnered through means other than reading the 16 record. As independent investigation presumably falls under 17 the category of extrajudicial research, it also would require a
18 source outside the record. In the matter before us, the record
19 extends back to November 6, 2019, and contains the 168 docket
20 entries in the main bankruptcy case, as well as the 225 docket
21 entries in this adversary proceeding. Although the movants
22 insist that the judge has been prejudiced against 23 Mr. Manookian, the record reflects no such prejudice. Although 24 movants insist that requiring the depositions to be held in the 25 courthouse reflects the presence of the Court's prejudice

1 against Mr. Manookian, what it more reasonably reflects is the
2 judge's familiarity with the case.

3 Mr. Spragens stated that Mr. Young called the
4 courtroom deputy to inform her of an order of protection
5 against Mr. Manookian by a creditor's attorney, and that was 6 how we started this case. First of all, the courtroom deputy
7 is not a member of Judge Walker's chamber staff. Secondly,
8 that is not how we started this case. The hearing on March 17,
9 2022, involved cross motions to compel and reflected the 10 biggest issue so far in this adversary, discovery. In fact,
11 the case is comprised mostly of three years of discovery
12 disputes with rulings reflecting the Court's stamina for 13 fairness and judicious administration of the case.

14 Mr. Spragens sought to take advantage of the Court's 15 patience by stepping dangerously close to a line with his 16 accusation that this judge may have had communications with 17 judges in other tribunals about his client. His accusation was 18 with absolutely no basis and was, as I stated, dangerously
19 close to the line drawn by Rule 11. The fact is the applicable
20 standard here is an objective one applied to facts, not applied
21 to whatever imaginative scenario the movants can conjure up out
22 of thin air.

23 Simply because a ruling does not reflect the stated
24 interest of a party or non-party doesn't mean we default to 25 disqualifying prejudice. The transcript shows that the

1 decision on March 17, 2022, as on all days, was so that there
2 would be no advantage or disadvantage to any party.
3 Illustrative of this, the order that Mr. Manookian's deposition
4 be scheduled the courthouse. What is glaringly absent from the 5 motion is the fact that the judge ordered all depositions to be
6 conducted under the same terms in that order. All parties,
7 including the plaintiff, were to have their depositions at the 8 courthouse. This was another ruling in another discovery
9 controversy with another clearly objective, reasonable, and 10 fair ruling.

11 Moreover, none of these issues are material to the 12 case. Material to the logistics of the case, sure. But given
13 the inability of these parties and these witnesses to conduct
14 discovery without disagreeing about every little detail, it was 15 necessary for the judge to rule on all of the discovery matters
16 and to do so in an equitable, fair, and reasonable manner, and 17 that he did.

18 The expectation of lawyers in the discovery process,
19 as reflected in the applicable rules, is to conduct themselves
20 in a professional, civil, and agreeable manner in order to 21 resolve the case either on the merits or by settlement. The 22 contentious nature of these discovery proceedings were a beast,
23 one might say a gorilla, with which the Court has tamed as best
24 as possible.

25 Furthermore, this Court never had to rely on

1 extrajudicial research. Now let's get back to the record for
2 this one. The record contains the rulings from other tribunals
3 that have found Mr. Manookian to have acted in bad faith,
4 engage in a pattern of obfuscation, and conduct himself in a
5 reckless manner. Specifically, a Williamson County judge found
6 that Mr. Manookian had knowingly, willfully, and intentionally
7 violated a protective order and then attempted to mislead that
8 court about that violation. That judge found Mr. Manookian's
9 behavior regarding discovery matters to be so egregious that he
10 imposed significant monetary sanctions against him. All of 11 this is part of the record in this case.

12 Additionally, this case did not find that Mr.
13 Manookian posed a threat. That would be the state court that 14 issued the restraining order. This Court simply sought to 15 honor that order, as federal courts do with most state court
16 orders, and to protect the integrity of the proceedings.
17 Movants neglect to mention that the judge stated having the 18 depositions in the courthouse protects everyone, including
19 Mr. Manookian.

20 Therefore, although the movants express their
21 perceptions of bias and prejudice, the record does not support
22 that as a reasonable view. The record shows not only
23 evenhanded judgment in this proceeding, but also illustrates 24 the Court's elevated patience with a painful number of 25 discovery disputes, including the ones that is the catalyst of

1 this motion.

2 Since any ex parte communication was permissible and
3 that it was not material, but concerned with security and
4 administrative procedures within the Court, and because no
5 extrajudicial research was conducted to impair this Court's
6 impartiality, it is mandatory that I deny the motion to 7 disqualify. Since there was no reasonable possibility that my 8 objectivity and neutrality has been compromised, it is 9 incumbent that I remain on the case. The absence of any
10 reasonable question regarding my impartiality demands that I
11 deny the motion to disqualify.

12 The Court will issue an order containing full
13 analysis and discussion. The Court will also enter an order
14 scheduling an evidentiary hearing on Mr. Manookian's objection
15 to the motion to compromise in the main case, that hearing
16 being bifurcated into Mr. Manookian's standing issue and the 17 substance of his objections. Any questions?

18 MR. SPRAGENS: No, Your Honor.

19 MR. YOUNG: No, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: All right. Court will be adjourned.

21 THE COURTROOM DEPUTY: All rise.
